Gentlemen:

I am writing a book on the history of the Russian Army and I plan to include a chapter in my book on the rise of the Communist Party in America. I wish to know if you would grant me permission to use the names and dates on pages 54 to 56 of the book Masters of Deceit by J. Edgar Hoover. I would like to write about one type written page on the creation of the Communist Party in the United States and I would mention the activities of John Reed, Benjamin Gitlow and Charles Ruthenberg in brief. Credit will be given to Mr. Hoover's book on my credit page. I shall greatly appreciate any assistance that you will give me. My references pages are page 48 to 58 in the pocket edition, Chapter IV How U. S. Communism Began, 1919-1921

Dear [Redacted]

I was indeed pleased to read in your letter of October 14 of the action taken by the Midland for America group in distributing copies of "Masters of Deceit" to members of the senior class at Midland High School. I have no specific suggestions to make regarding the rules of the essay contest which you enclosed; however, if convenient for you, I would be interested to read the winning entries after they are selected.

The book was written in the hope it would become a useful text for students and other Americans anxious to learn more about the menace of communism. The steps taken by your organization to bring its message to the attention of young people in your community are in the highest spirit of good citizenship.

It was most thoughtful of you to forward copies of the book for my autograph. In the belief, however, that the hardback edition will be a more permanent memento for those students with the winning entries, I have autographed five copies which I am forwarding, under separate cover, together with the five pocketbook versions which you sent.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

MIDLAND, TEXAS

The Midland for America group here has today distributed a paper back copy of your excellent book, Masters of Deceit, to each senior student of Midland High School. There are 527 senior students currently enrolled. Our object in doing this is that this book be read and to encourage the reading thereof, we have offered various prizes for the best papers on this subject. Of course, to conduct an essay contest, some rules must be formulated and the students must have some idea as to how to approach writing their papers; accordingly, we promulgated a set of rules, a copy of which is enclosed herewith. If you have any suggestions as to how to improve the content of these instructions or rules in the event that other groups or cities ask us for advice on the matter, we would appreciate your suggestions.

It has been suggested that in addition to the cash prizes which we are offering in this contest, that we likewise give each contest winner an autographed copy of your book. We have not made such commitment to the students as yet, but would appreciate your autographing the five copies which we are forwarding to you this date under separate cover.

We have set a deadline for the submission of the papers as November 18. As of now, we do not know when these papers can be judged or when the prizes may be awarded. In order to follow up on this basic idea, we feel that the presentation of the prizes would present an opportunity to have someone from your department speak to the students on the subject matter of Communism. We would like your thoughts on this matter. It goes without saying that we feel that it would do a tremendous amount of good with this group if you yourself could make such a talk and presentation. If you feel that there is any chance of your being able to get here in the latter part of December, before the Christmas holidays, or anytime during the month of January or thereabouts, we of course could plan the presentation of awards to coincide with your convenience. Otherwise we would appreciate your suggestions as to a speaker or we will make direct contact with FBI offices in this area.

I made a brief talk to all of the senior students upon the presentation to them of the books this morning, and I was most gratified with the response and of the apparent keen interest of the students in obtaining more knowledge of the Communist conspiracy. I feel that your book is an outstanding basic presentation of the problem and that the students will learn a great deal from it.

Sincerely yours,

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ESSAY CONTEST

A copy of J. Edgar Hoover's book, Masters of Deceit, has been given to each senior student of Midland High School. These books have been purchased and distributed by Midland For America for one purpose and one purpose only and that is to encourage all students to read them, and in doing so it is felt that the individual will acquire a basic understanding of the nature and methods of the Communist enemy and of the advances it has made in the United States. The Communist conspiracy can be deterred only if the American public informs itself, knows and understands the enemy, and is able to recognize it for what it is and does.

The only condition attached to the gift of these books is that they be read. It is hoped that after you have read them, you will pass them on to your parents and friends. To encourage the reading of Masters of Deceit, Midland For America, assisted by the contributions of private individuals is offering the following prizes or scholarships for the best essays or papers written by Midland High School Seniors in accordance with the rules herein:

1st Place	$100
2nd Place	$ 60
3rd Place	$ 45
4th Place	$ 30
5th Place	$ 15

RULES

1. Use Masters of Deceit as basic source material.
2. Write an essay or paper not more than 1500 words in length on the subject, "The Communist Conspiracy in the United States".
(Note: The papers will not be judged by their length. Long quotations should be avoided).
3. The papers may either be typewritten or in legible handwriting, and should be mailed, when completed, to

*Midland For America
P. O. Box 5304
Midland, Texas
4. A committee appointed by Midland For America will judge the contest. Entries should be postmarked not later than Friday, November 18, 1960.
5. The papers should, essentially, demonstrate an understanding of the contents of Masters of Deceit. As an aid toward your approach to the writing of your paper, the following points are set out by way of suggestion only:

An understanding of:

- a. The general subject matter.
- b. The nature of Communism as a conspiracy as opposed to a political philosophy.
- c. The objectives of Communism in the United States.
- d. The gravity of the Communist menace to the United States.
- e. The areas of our national life which are targets of Communist infiltration and subversion.
- f. Communist methods, tactics, and propaganda.

Dear Sir

I watched Walter Winchell's show Sunday night and I would like to receive this pamphlet on espionage.

I think more people (should be) should show interest in this matter.

I read J. E. Hoover's "Masters of Deceit" last year. This is the first time I had spent $4.50 on a book, but it was well worth it! I feel it has made me a better American and made me more aware of the people threatening our freedom and country.

In these critical times, I guess we feel a great surge of patriotism, and I guess we all feel we should be in these men's and women's shoes doing something to help our country instead of just standing by.

I feel that as long as we have our dedicated F. B. I., we need not fear losing our country to atheistic communists.

Thank you

Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading your book, "Masters of Deceit". This I must say has been one of the most informative and inspirational books I have ever read.

I feel I have really learned something from this book both about Communism and how to properly combat it as a loyal American citizen and also renewed faith in our country and government and our ultimate success over this struggle.

Even with all the available evidence it's difficult to understand that certain Americans at this point in our history with our heritage, spiritual and educational background, and material wealth and promise of a brilliant future under our form of government would knowingly allow themselves to become even remotely connected with an organization so obviously dedicated to the slavery of mankind.

It seems all too inadequate but for you and the Federal Bureau of Investigation's tireless effort, exhaustive research and dedication please accept my most heartfelt "thanks".

While being contacted on another matter on 10/10/60, captioned individual advised that he was a great admirer of the FBI and particularly of its Director, Mr. J. EDGAR HOOVER. [redacted] pointed out that at the present time he is teaching a course in international communism and he is using Director HOOVER's book "Masters of Deceit" as supplementary text on the subject of domestic communism. He stated that he considers "Masters of Deceit" as being the authoritative text on the subject matter.

Dear Mr. Winchell:

Enjoyed your 10:30 P.M. television program this evening, especially, when you debunked the great lies of Mr. K (the international gangster). Hoping to hear more of the same against communism, continuously. In doing so you are doing a fine job in keeping America well informed. As the saying goes "The truth hurts".

Incidentally, Mr. Winchell I was also glad you recommended the book of J. Edgar Hoover, the "Masters Of Deceit." But I'm sorry to say that this bible against communism can not be purchased at any of the stores selling pocket books. My friends and many others have been searching the cities throughout Connecticut for some, but to no success. Do you think that a communist block of some kind is out against the pocket book "Masters Of Deceit."

Dear Mr. Woodman:

Mr. Edward E. Hargett, Special Agent in Charge of our Cleveland Office, has furnished me with a copy of your letter to Dr. John S. Rinehart, which was dated October 11, 1960. It was most kind of you to recommend my book, "Masters of Deceit," to Dr. Rinehart, and I want you to know that I appreciate your gesture.

Certainly we should all be vigilant to guard against communistic attempts to subvert our youth, and I believe that one of the most effective means of achieving this is to inform our young people concerning the true nature of the communist menace. This is all the more true today with our knowledge that the communists are exerting every effort to infiltrate student groups across the country.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear [redacted]

It was most thoughtful of you to write on October 14 to furnish a copy of your address, "The Church and Social Action," and your church bulletin of October 9.

I am indeed pleased that you have found "Masters of Deceit" of value and that it was chosen for a discussion program of the church Women's Association. The book was written in the hope it would become a useful text for students and other Americans interested in learning more about the threat of communism. Letters like yours are indeed reassuring and confirm that the publication is serving its intended purpose.

In view of your interest, I am sending, under separate cover, some material on the general subject of communism which you may like to read.

SPOTLIGHT on the SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sunday School attendance reached a total of 803 last Sunday morning as the different departments pushed closer to their attendance goals.

Again it is the Junior High and High School departments who are out ahead. Both groups broke their previous highs by 2, reaching 114 and 68.

Four departments have less than 10 to go to reach their destinations on the big world map in Stone Hall. The Kindergarteners need only 6 more, the Chi Alphans only 9 more, the Mariners 60 only 8 more and the Women's Bible Class only 2 more. The rest have only 10 to 20 to go (except the Fellowship Class which has an extra high goal in view of the room they have for expansion in the church sanctuary).

Just two weeks remain. If you haven't been in the habit of coming at 9:30, why not do something during this very Sunday morning and bring the whole family?

	Goal	Oct. 2	To Go
Toddlers - - - -	50	37	13
Kindergarten - - -	70	64	6

Conference Begins Next Sunday, October 16

ELEVENTH ANNUAL MISSIONARY CONFERENCE — October 16 - 23

Almost 12 months of preparation and planning will come to fruition beginning next Sunday when our 11th Annual Missionary Conference opens. Perhaps it sounds like "old stuff" when it gets to be the 11th annual but, like the gospel story, the theme of its existence; it is ever new for each year opens up new avenues of service, interest and inspiration. That is the reason no one can afford to miss the sessions of this great conference.

Dr. Frank F. Warren will open at the 11:00 o'clock worship service. With a real heart for missions, having served in Japan for seven years himself, he recently made a tour around the world visiting many mission stations. Dr. Warren is president of our denomination's college at Spokane, Whitworth. He is a noted speaker and surely will open our eyes for the events of the week to follow. In addition to Dr. Warren, Dr. C. E. Polhemus, General Presbyterian of the Synod of Washington will take a few minutes to reveal the missionary aspects of Synod causes.

We shall be hearing throughout the week of the many facets of missionary endeavor — medical, educational, evangelistic and industrial. We shall hear of methods in use—missionary aviation, literacy programs, translation work, literature distribution. We will travel from tumultuous Congo to foreboding New Guinea, to the new Cameroun and the restless countries of Latin America. We shall stop at the islands of the sea, Japan, and return home for a quiet view of rural missionary work in our own area and to familiarize ourselves with organized efforts to reach our young people. And not for a moment would we neglect the important work of reaching the Jews with the gospel.

All this can be yours, between the dates of October 16 - 23, mornings and evenings. See full details next week.

PRAY FOR AND ATTEND YOUR MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Last week on the Walter Winchell Show, Mr. Winchell stated that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is offering a pamphlet entitled, "Expose of Soviet Espionage," to the public. I would be most grateful if you could send me a copy of this pamphlet at the above address.

I would also like to thank you and the Bureau for all the time and effort that contributed to Masters of Deceit. It is one of the most informative and precautional books available on communism. I hope it will help more Americans understand and be conscious of the potential dangers of communism. I, for one, am most grateful that history instructors at my school dwell at some length on this subject, helping us to understand that every American can do all within his power to keep our country safe and secure.

SUBJECT: [REDACTED]

MIDLAND, TEXAS
HIGH SCHOOL ESSAY CONTEST
"MASTERS OF DECEIT"

[REDACTED] Midland, Texas, wrote on 10-14-60 to advise Midland for America group distributed pocketbook editions of "Masters of Deceit" to 527 senior students at Midland High School on 10-14-60. The group is also sponsoring an essay contest based on the book with cash prizes for the first 5 winners.

[REDACTED] forwarded 5 copies of the pocketbook edition of "Masters of Deceit" with request that they be autographed by the Director for presentation to the first 5 winners. He also invited the Director to personally award the prizes and make a talk to the students or designate a representative for this purpose.

Bufiles contain no record identifiable with [REDACTED]
 [REDACTED] and no record of the Midland for America organization.

OBSERVATION:

The initiative shown by this group in distributing more than 500 copies of "Masters of Deceit" is excellent and should call marked attention to the book in the Midland area. It is also possible that other groups may follow suit. Bound copies of "Masters of Deceit" would be much more appropriate mementos for the students with the winning entries than pocketbook editions.

By letter 10-10-60 [REDACTED] advised he had just completed a condensed version of "The Darby Trial," a novel dealing with communist use of Christian techniques to promote its ideology. He asked whether the Director could recommend any book which would help him recognize communist influence in Christian churches and religious leadership.

In postscript, [REDACTED] referred to a lenten service he had conducted a number of years ago for personnel of the Minneapolis Office. His letter is cordial and complimentary.

Bufiles contain no derogatory information regarding [REDACTED] and show that he was formerly pastor of the Oliver Presbyterian Church in Minneapolis and on three occasions between 1945 and 1952 invited the Director to speak to the Greater Minneapolis Sunday School. Each invitation was declined.

OBSERVATIONS:

"Masters of Deceit" is the logical book to recommend to [REDACTED] to acquaint him with over-all communist strategy. It is believed an autographed copy of the Director's book would be a most welcome gift and the possibility exists that he would emphasize the value of the publication to members of his church.

Dear [redacted]

I do appreciate your interest in writing on October 10 regarding my views on means through which communist influence may be identified.

In view of your deep concern, I am sending you, under separate cover, a copy of my book, "Masters of Deceit," which I was pleased to autograph to you. I wrote the book with the purpose of acquainting students and other Americans with the ultimate aims and actual day-to-day operations of the communist movement. I believe that reading it, together with others of the many published works on this subject, will help you to recognize the strategy the communists use in their efforts to infiltrate civic, political, religious and other organizations.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I've just finished reading "The Darby Trial" which is a Reader's Digest condensed book slanted to portray the communist use of christian techniques, principles and preaching to spread their poison. I have been in the ministry for over 25 years and have wondered how much and how often our men have been deceived by the phraseology and techniques of these communists.

Is there any book that I could read profitably that would unmask and help me to discern this sort of thing in the christian churches and any of it's ministers. I wish I knew what is the thing to do if and when I see such strategy creeping into the religious leadership of our day. I would appreciate any suggestions that you might be able to present.

Sincerely yours,

HK/bn

P.S. My memory has just jogged me with a thought of something grand that happened a number of years ago when I was the pastor of a church in Minneapolis. It was during the lenten season and a member of your organization asked me if my church would serve a lenten early morning breakfast to the members of the Minneapolis staff. They said they were dealing with so much sort ofness they felt the need of a spiritual lift and they were going to ask different churches to serve them a breakfast and for the local minister to give them a morning meditation each week during lent. Instead of serving the breakfast in our church, I invited them to the manse. We had a wonderful time by the open fireplace with breakfast and a brief morning devotional service. You have a great group of people working for you.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

What a pleasant surprise to receive your personally autographed book "Master of Deceit" telling the story of communism in our country.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to you for this personally autographed book. I shall cherish it for many, many years to come.

I also am concerned about the power of communism in our country for the reason that I was with the O.S.S., and spent two years in Italy during the last war. I feel that every person should read this book and understand the philosophy of communism and how it operates, and not to be fooled by its ideologies.

Again my sincere thanks for this wonderful gesture on your part.

With best wishes and personal regards, I remain

Sincerely,

Don A. Petrucelli

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Two weeks ago, while escorting my young daughter to the Public Library, I decided to read your book 'Masters of Deceit'. It has given me a different slant on communism, previously it had been to me only a condition that existed in other countries.

I am, and have been, employed as the office secretary of a small branch of the Teamsters Union (and please don't groan) for fifteen years. Several years ago we were getting pamphlets from an organization in Philadelphia, located at a Broad Street address. I would read the material. Although no mention was made of communism, as you wrote in your book, the arguments or causes for some poor down trodden citizen being persecuted by our government were very convincing, but to me, something seemed wrong. Personally, I felt as if I had read a dirty piece of literature and would destroy the pamphlets. It bothered me to the extent that I mentioned it to the postman and he suggested that I refuse the next mailing, which I did, and the Teamsters haven't gotten mail from them since.

Two years ago when our president, Mr. Hoffa, was being investigated by a Senate Committee, and the Teamsters Union graced the front, back and middle pages of all newspapers, our office was visited by a gentleman. My immediate employer wasn't in so he chatted with me. He was of average height, slightly built, attractive with graying hair, presumably in his forties. He introduced himself as a representative from an International Union in New York. I had never heard of the Union and he didn't seem too well schooled, in my opinion, as to what classification of workers his union covered. It seemed odd and mentally I thought 'he surely didn't come from the rank and file'. He asked what I thought of the recent disclosures on Mr. Hoffa's activities and added that all the publicity wasn't doing the Teamsters or any other union much good. He added that several other union organizations (but named none) were anxious to rid the labor movement of Mr. Hoffa and that was the reason he was visiting various unions. I told him that Mr. Hoffa should be given a chance to defend himself first before any rash action should be taken, that you do not kick a dog when it's down and that there are always two sides to every story. The gentleman floundered then produced a check book showing a balance of a thousand and some odd dollars expense money which he was delegated to spend on the 'cause'. He further added that he had been a former Army major. I don't know what he was trying to prove to me, but I directed him to talk to our President or Secretary-Treasurer at our main office in Reading, Pennsylvania. He left. I mentioned it to both officers and they said that the person described never came near the office.

Two years ago, Mr. Hoover, communism did not enter my mind, but after reading your book and reviewing the circumstances there isn't a doubt in my mind that the visit was inspired by that organization. I might add that I am being considered foolish for writing this letter and that I'll surely have a visitor from the F.B.I. What is so frightening about the F.B.I.? There is no pertinent information to add although your book has educated me to the extent that I shall be more attentive in the future. Perhaps the whole matter may be picayune, if it is then please regard this letter as fan mail from an interested reader.

I thank God for the common sense He endowed me with and for inspiring you to produce such a good book. It is not my desire to either live, die, or raise my dear daughter under the Soviet of the United States.

Very truly yours,

200 Anderson Street

Correspondent states that she is interested in the menace of communism to our country and that she has read a "voluminous amount of literature" on this subject. She states that she has quoted various so-called authorities in speaking against communism and would like the Director to refer her to someone who could give an honest appraisal of her sources of information. She then lists several individuals who are known to the Bureau as being engaged in anticommunist activity. Bufiles contain no identifiable data concerning the correspondent.

The following items of literature were sent to the correspondent:

1. "Communist Target - Youth."
2. Reprint from "FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin," March, 1960," with analysis of the 17th National Convention of the Communist Party, USA.
3. "Communist Illusion and Democratic Reality."

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have read your book "Masters of Deceit" and found it extremely interesting. I have been attending meetings exposing the presence of communism in all facets of our society and have also been studying a voluminous amount of literature.

In trying to fight communism on a local level, I have a problem with which I need some advice. I have had the difficulty of proving the value of my informational sources. I have quoted various so-called authorities and would like to have you refer me to someone who could give an honest appraisal of my sources of information. There are, as you know, numerous publications available but I do not want to be in a position of being unable to substantiate my claims or find that the authors I refer to do not have a legitimate background or are misrepresenting themselves.

He is very friendly to the New York Office and at the present time he is serving as an informant of that office on Latin American affairs, particularly Cuban matters. Dear Mr. Hoover;

Your address to the American Legion was just re-broadcast from San Francisco and since I did not know until the finish just who was speaking but the speaker said so precisely what I believe and want to shout from the house tops that I was thrilled indeed when I learned that you were the speaker.

This is to say THANK YOU SIR

My admiration for you and your department has been without letters but I cannot restrain myself this time. When living in Washington D.C. and not too far from the house which you built and also when leaving the remains of our precious friend and little dog at Aspen Hill Cemetery,, I have always felt that I knew you somewhat.

Your books which I only wish were recorded on books for the blind, are much spoken of out here and I keep telling friends on phone to be sure to read them.

Even I remember seeing you at Allies Inn a few times at lunch time so perhaps you will forgive my rather familiar tone of this letter.

During my recent visit to New York City, I visited former Special Agent Harold V. Kennedy at the Deering-Milliken and Company, 1045 Sixth Avenue, New York 18, New York. Mr. Kennedy introduced me to Mr. Minot Milliken and Mr. Kingsley, both of whom are vice presidents. Mr. Minot Milliken is a cousin of Roger Milliken, president of the company. Mr. Kingsley is, in effect, the executive vice president of the company and I understand he wields a considerable amount of influence in the company's policy.

The Millikens had previously indicated an interest in purchasing some of the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit." During my visit, Mr. Minot Milliken stated that he had contacted a mailing firm and it had been suggested to him that he purchase the pocketbook edition of the Director's book and make it available to as many schools as possible. Mr. Minot Milliken stated as a result 16,000 copies of the book had been ordered and will be mailed to the schools by the mailing firm. He explained that $6,500 had been set aside for this purpose and during the interview I pointed out to Minot Milliken the value of the hard-bound book over the pocket edition; however, Mr. Milliken had indicated they had already completed arrangements for the pocketbook edition so I saw no point in pressing the matter any further.

It was very obvious during the interview that Mr. Minot Milliken and Mr. Kingsley have extremely high regard for the Director and the FBI. Mr. Minot Milliken made it plain that it was his desire to do everything possible to help the Director in his great work to combat communism and the spread of socialism in this country. He made it plain that the Director had been waging a relentless battle and needs the strong support of all Americans in waging a successful fight in this matter.

Your pamphlet, Communist Target-Youth is a fine report and I wish it could be read by every parent, and every teacher in our country. It is required reading for my two teen-aged sons.

You are doing a superb job!

I wish to thank you for the arousal of many of us patriotic Americans from complacency to action.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I wish to express my sincere thanks and deep appreciation for the autographed copy of your excellent book, "Masters of Deceit", which was delivered to me by my very good friend, Bill Boleyn. (BUREAU OF THE BUDGET) Handwritten: W.C. Sullivan

After reading your absorbing and interesting book, I left it with the feeling that you have performed a real public service. It brings to public attention, in a lucid and interesting manner, an account of the workings of communism in our country. More important, it instills a sense of urgency that in these times no one may rest complacently and all must have a vigilant attitude toward this cancer which has infected our society. In my opinion, this is a book which should be read by every American and I would hope that it will serve to foster a militant attitude to combat what you so aptly termed "the evils of this false religion".

Again may I thank you and say that I shall prize this personally autographed copy.

Dear Ed:

I am enclosing a copy of a letter Mr. Hoover has written to Mr. William C. Kittrell of the United States Naval Air Station in Memphis, Tennessee, which is self-explanatory. Mr. Kittrell wrote on October 27 to advise that his establishment has been using "Masters of Deceit" as a basis for discussion periods on the subject of communism. He said they cannot purchase additional copies in the area and they had heard the book was not being printed any longer.

Sincerely,

Clyde Tolson

Dear [Redacted]

nich.

On October 24 I received your kind letter commenting on my book, "Masters of Deceit," and I do appreciate your thoughtfulness in writing.

I want to express my warm personal thanks for your very generous comments and for giving me the benefit of your observations. Communism is an evil which is testing the defenses of our own beliefs and I strongly feel that we must be willing, as Christians, to stand up to the challenge. At the same time, we must be aware that we are facing a formidable foe, and it was my hope, in writing the book, that it would become a useful text for Americans and free people throughout the world who are interested in learning more about the menace of communism. Letters such as yours are reassuring and confirm that the publication is serving its intended purpose.

In view of your concern, I am sending, under separate cover, some additional material which you may like to read.

Sincerely yours,
J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr Hoover,

I have just read with great your book "Masters of Deceit". I most readable exposition of Communism
I have yet come across and I hope many Australians read it for the danger is as great here as it is in the U.S.A.

I was particularly impressed with your humane outlook and with your conclusion that the remedy is not just anti-Communism but a positive answer rooted in faith in a Supreme Being worked out in the six aspects you mention so clearly. This is heartening from an American in high places. Sometimes, from outside, it looks as if Americans (like Australians) had forgotten the "rock from whence they were hewed" in the worship of the Almighty Dollar. Your emphasis on spiritual values gives us once again
the true voice of America.

I spent six weeks in 1957 at the World Assembly for Moral Rearmament on Mackinac Island, Mich, and came away with a profound respect for Americans and new hope for the world.

Preservation of the constitutional government of these United States is an elementary belief that all of us who cherish freedom want to see maintained. Under this government we enjoy a priceless heritage that is only possible because of the sacrifices of many Americans who preceded us on this continent.

All citizens should recognize, understand and strongly support the basic principles on which our nation was founded and through which it has risen to world-wide leadership. We all should be aware of the challenge and threats to our hard-won American liberties and we should be prepared to resist them in the interests of a strong, virile and well informed United States.

General Motors Corporation and its Dayton divisions feel privileged to provide you with a copy of "Masters of Deceit," hoping that it will create an awareness of subversive tactics used against us, stimulate an individual sense of responsibility to inform others and promote a greater appreciation of our obligations as citizens towards our country.

Dear [redacted]

Thank you for your letter of October 26, 1960. It was encouraging to learn about your favorable reaction to my book, "Masters of Deceit."

In regard to your reference to [redacted] I presume that what he has in mind is my belief that where feasible we should in our schools study and completely expose the utterly false doctrines of communism. Additionally, I am firmly convinced that it is most important to select men and women to teach about communism who fully understand the subject and are definitely committed to opposing this evil.

I think the mechanics of handling the subject matter should be left to our local educational authorities and others interested in the local school system. An approach which might be suitable to one local community may not be equally suitable to another. Our local leaders are in a much better position to decide upon the procedures most suited to their communities than are men and women far removed from the local scene.

I do hope that you will continue your interest in opposing communism because so much depends upon citizens like you who can, within their daily orbit, make a lasting contribution to solving the problem of communism which today threatens the continued existence of our free institutions.

Sincerely yours,
J. Edgar Hoover

INFORMATION CONCERNING (CENTRAL RESEARCH MATTER)

Enclosed will be found a letter to the Director dated October 26, 1960, from the above-captioned person. This letter makes reference to remarks attributed to [REDACTED] at the Houston Cold War Strategy Seminar held October 25 - 26, 1960, in which I participated.

The correspondent is somewhat confused concerning her references to [REDACTED]. As I have previously pointed out, [REDACTED] is a great booster of the Director and the FBI and whenever possible he recommends wide reading of the Director's book "Masters of Deceit." All that [REDACTED] has in mind here to which the correspondent refers is that communism should be taught and exposed in our schools and that where this is done it is absolutely essential in studying to use the Director's book "Masters of Deceit." In view of the above, I propose sending the enclosed letter from the Director to [REDACTED].

RECOMMENDATION:

That the enclosed letter from the Director to [REDACTED] be approved.

Dear

Your letter dated November 1, 1960, has been received, and the interest which prompted your communication is indeed appreciated.

On July 20, 1940, William Z. Foster, at that time National Chairman of the Communist Party, USA, was indicted for alleged violation of the Smith Act of 1940 on two counts. He was not tried at that time because of ill health. At the request of the United States Government, Mr. Foster was given physical examinations on May 4, 1954; November 20, 1955; and April 25, 1956, by court-appointed physicians, and in each instance he was found physically unfit to stand trial.

On June 16, 1959, Mr. Foster filed a motion for an order to dismiss the indictment on the grounds that its pendency violates the Fifth, Sixth and Eighth Amendments to the United States Constitution. This motion was denied by the United States District Court on October 22, 1959, and by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals on May 12, 1960. Mr. Foster appealed to the United States Supreme Court. On October 10, 1960, the Supreme Court declined to review the case provided the United States Government would determine whether or not Mr. Foster would ever be physically fit to stand trial. Arrangements are presently being made by the Government to have a court-appointed physician again examine Mr. Foster. This is where the matter stands today, and I trust this information will be of assistance to you and your Correspondent advised that the Director's book "Masters of Deceit" has been used as a guide in the study of communism by her church study group. She stated that she had found the Director's book enlightening and interesting. Correspondent states, however, that her class is curious as to the present status of William Z. Foster with regard to his original indictment under the Smith Act. She requests that the Bureau advise why Mr. Foster has not been "convicted" under the Smith Act.

Bufiles contain no identifiable data concerning the correspondent.

Dear Sir:

We are studying your book "Masters of Deceit" in our church study group. We undertook this book because we felt we needed to know more about Communism and how to fight it.

Your book has been enlightening and interesting but it raised a question in our minds about William Foster. When the 11 men of the Party's National Board were convicted under the Smith Act, William Foster was severed because of illness. What my class would like to know why wasn't he later convicted because he went on to become the top party official.

We are sure there are good reasons but my class is a curious bunch so I would appreciate any help you can give me.

Very truly yours,

His Excellency
J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C., U.S.A.,

Excellent and dear Sir,

I was delighted of making a study of your most excellent work
MASTERS OF DECEIT.

May I humbly suggest a point which seems to me as lacking in your work which may gain immensely in efficiency if and when this point would serve its already fine cohesion:

The scientifically correct wording of the issue that divides now mankind into two gigantic armed camps is NOT: "communism" (which does not exist in Russia or elsewhere) or "socialism" versus capitalism.

The correct wording of the issue that separates East from the still free West is as follows:

" RUSSIAN ONE PARTY-CONTROLLED MONOPOLY-CAPITALISM

PEOPLES' STEADILY RISING CONSTITUTIONAL CONTROL OVER FREE MARKET CAPITALISM."

In the light of the correct re-statement of the issue separating
East from the West, the Russian or Red Chinese system is capitalistic.
The hub of the entire controversy is this: WHO SHOULD OWN CAPITAL? One single political party? Or, should the Russian type BIG CAPITAL be broken into as many fragments as there are people in a country? Where there is a valid ANTI-TRUST LAW, there the fragmentation of capital power is the rule of production. Corporate ownership still does not constitute a BIG CAPITAL in the Russian sense.

When the USA thinkers and writers use, in an idiotic sense, the terms
"COMMUNISM" or "SOCIALISM" in connection with Russia, they merely bolster, even if they attack the Russian monopolism, the impudence of men like Nikita Khrushchew.

With your kind permission I take the liberty of enclosing two documents which illustrate the above outlined new approach to the vexing problem of Russia and Red China versus Free West.

In my search for light in this matter, no responsible man, including yourself, Excellent and dear Sir, cared to find the ultimate point of approach, as outlined in the enclosures, to the Russian problem that may become our TO BE OR NOT TO BE PROBLEM.

Respectfully submitted, EX-105

~~THE~~ ENGAGEMENT QUOTIENT (EQ)

BY
Eugene F. Molnar

Reprinted from Religious Education, July-August, 1960
Religious Education Association, 545 West 111th St., New York 25, N. Y.

A New Concept in Religious Education —

THE ENGAGEMENT QUOTIENT (EQ)

Eugene F. Molnar¹

THE CHILD from the moment of his birth can be compared to a guided missile in flight toward unfolding into adulthood. He is structurally speaking engaged in, entirely committed to, and geared for, a steady advance toward the main achievement of his developmental task — adult existence.

Living is learning . . . To understand human development one must understand learning. — The human individual learns his way through life.²

This paper proposes the concept of the Engagement Quotient (EQ) as a basis for religious education. Through joint efforts of educators in its application and critical evaluation, this instrument may develop into something as useful for homes and schools as the thermometer has become for medical diagnosis. Part I will describe the theory and practical application of this concept. Part II will give a brief evaluation of the results of the preliminary tests conducted by the author.

PART I

A. The Engagement Quotient expresses the degree of impact of the whole self of the child on its future. The intellectual, social, physiological and emotional segments of the child's person are rallied by the E.Q. for a life of valor or tragedy.

¹Pastor, St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, Bathurst, New Brunswick, Canada.

²Havighurst, Robert J., Developmental Tasks and Education, 2nd Ed. p. 1.

The school measures the child's actual responses to formal teaching in terms of school marks. Let us assume that the year's grand average of 60 points will form a passing mark. This value 60 will make the one root of the threshold value of the E.Q. The average value of the school marks denotes, let us assume, the amount of discernment the child obtained in the class rooms.

With character measurements one moves in the realm of the abstract and the intangible. We developed, however, a method of objective measurements through a combination of self-rating and multiple rating that can be used in measuring the firmness of a group of ten traits.

Let us assume that 60 will also express a passing mark of the trait rating. The arithmetical sum of the passing average of 60 for school marks, added to the passing average of 60 for the firmness of traits will establish 120 as the threshold value of the E.Q. The E.Q. will oscillate above and below this threshold. This oscillation is of the utmost import for education.

B. The techniques for the application of the concept of the engagement quotient may be briefly outlined as follows:

I. Visual Summaries: Individual Graphs. Since school children receive marks four or five times a year, the average of these term reports can be graphed. This graph may be used for a visual summary revealing the child's progress in the school room. The

At one time all the criminals and delinquents were sitting in our well-equipped school rooms. The decrease of the E.Q. has been accepted in our research as a signal for special attention. E.Q. ratings can detect personality problems and preventive aid can be forthcoming in time. Organized religion can render a signal service to the world by giving assistance when a decreasing E.Q. sends out its S.O.S. signals.

PART II

A. During the past two decades a group of 604 volunteer students from all over North America and Europe consented to report to the writer the oscillation of their E.Q. for a period of at least ten years, in every single case. They were random as to language, race, age and education. In a random way, a control Group B has been formed and observed. Group B was not given any formal training of the E.Q. Results: Delinquency in Group A, None; delinquency in Group B, The National Average. Those educators who care to remake this experiment will find that members of Control Group B can be evaluated indirectly from school marks printed in the local press. Delinquency in Group B can be checked from local press reports.

B. Experimentation with the method in the case of 8 special individuals, compared with 8 children in a control group, resulted as follows: Delinquency in Group A, None; delinquency in Group B, One (expelled from college). The principal and home room teacher offered the following comments on three cases:

Pupil "A" entered our Collegiate Institute in 1932 with standing in Grade XI. She remained in the school to complete her Grade XIII work. Throughout she proved herself a fine scholar, not only in her academic studies but also in her quiet, congenial attitude in the class room. Typical of her record is her performance in Grade XI: class average, 89; rank in class, 1; E.Q., 186. Her lowest E.Q. was 118, in Grade IV, public school. This record was achieved in spite of a low I.Q. rating.

Pupil "B" entered our school in 1936 from public school; hence he began in Grade IX. His scholastic work proved satisfactory throughout his five years attendance at school; he showed ability well above the average. As a class room student "B" was generally satisfactory; although in his later years there seemed to be some complaint that he did not hold himself in check as he might have done. Companionship with one or two others of a noisy disposition brought him into unfavorable light, though not disrepute. He was actively engaged in student activities, particularly student government; in this he was the school's recognized leader for two years, and in a school of 900 scholars this meant many responsibilities. . . . His school records: Grade IX, class average 77, trait average 69, total E.Q. 146; Grade X, class average 86, trait average 91, total E.Q., 157 . . . and so on. Lowest E.Q., Grade V — 113. "B" received one prize award for his studies, a scholarship to a school of technology.

Pupil "C." His grand average E.Q. for five years of his high school work: 154 (school marks: 76; traits, multiple rating, 78). Upon graduating from high school, he enrolled in the army and had there been a commissioned officer. He had a distinguished war-service overseas; had been knighted by the Queen of Holland. While on the Italian battlefield, he enrolled for extramural work in a university. After an honourable discharge from the army, he studied six years at a university. For these consecutive six years his E.Q. grand average had been 182 (academic achievement, 93 traits, multiple rating, 89). Pupil "C" is the only veteran to our knowledge who earned his medical doctor degree summa cum laude (1951). During all his life, war services included, he had been a non-smoker and non-drinker. Pupil "C" became one of our finest physicians who serves his suffering fellow creatures at a well-known medical center. In this case the re-surging aspect of a sustained, high-level E.Q. is most worthy of attention as a symptom of a direct relation of maturity and later happy adjustments in life.

Everyone of our children enrolled in Special Group A made up of eight children had been confronted by "big" problems. It has been rewarding to follow up the oscillation of their Engagement Quotients.

Editor's note: Dr. Molnar would like to hear from any educators who are interested in experimenting with this method, and will be glad to send further information, and samples of materials which he has used. Address: P. O. Box 562, Bathurst, N.B., Canada.

average values of character rating can also be graphed to reveal at a glance the character development of the child. These visual summaries save time for the minister, spiritual leader or director of religious education.

II. The Mechanics of the Method. The schools supply the regular grade reports. The traits of character are normally rated by the pupil himself. Self-ratings below the danger threshold should be completed by averaging a multiple rating by parents, friends, teachers and spiritual leaders.

A four point scale has been adopted for the rating of character traits. Simple description of the trait to be rated is followed by an objective sample. At the bottom of each trait listed there are five simple boxes numbered from zero to four. Four points are awarded for excellent rating, three for good, two for fair, one for poor. The zero box is used by the child if for some reason the trait is unknown in his experience and in this case all traits marked by zero must be deducted from the number of traits listed.

The rating is marked in the appropriate box of a TERM AND ANNUAL REPORT sheet prepared for the use of church schools. The final score is obtained by applying the formula as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Sum of Ratings}}{\text{No. of Traits} \times 4} = \text{Final Score}$$

The church schools should simply tell the children to improve. The attendant inspiration will show in the E.Q. The computation of the E.Q. oscillations will take about two hours of the pupil's and spiritual leader's time per year.

III. Proposed List of Traits:

1. Glad Church Going: This means attending 52 worship services and church school privileges per year.

Example of scoring this and the following traits: "Put an X in the proper box — Excellent - 4; Good - 3; Fair - 2; Poor - 1; Not at all - 0."

2. Fortitude: This means standing up to bad luck. This is the secret of true greatness in life. It was explained by Jesus in the parable of turning the other cheek or walking the second mile.

3. Self-control: This means controlling your emotions.

4. Conduct: This means being polite, considerate of others in work, play, or conversation. You can be liked without being a weak drifter.

5. Courage: This means keeping your head in emergencies, trying to overcome danger with all your might. You are not courageous when you take silly risks.

6. Ambition to Do Very Well: This means doing your best at all times, doing your share for benefiting all people. The best effort line of services is the finest ambition in life.

7. Perseverance: This means sticking to a thing until you have finished it.

8. Truth Telling: This means exactly what it says, even when telling the truth might appear to work against you.

9. Cooperation: This means to be alert and willing to help others, working or playing with them unselfishly, being glad when others succeed. It also means that you are glad to work and play with your parents, teachers, ministers and friends.

10. Sense of Justice: Your sense of justice will keep you from joining secret and destructive organizations. It will make you rebel against unworthy, bullying gang-leaders who praise you when you fail in your school-work. When you have a sense of justice you do not judge people hastily.

No changes are contemplated as far as traditional curricula are concerned.

IV. In Relation to Maturity: For the purpose of this research on education, this writer assumed that maturity has at least two measurable factors: 1. The insight (discernment) factor arising from response to formal teaching with hard, best effort, work; 2. The firmness of character. They belong together like two faces of a coin. Learning without strength of character is empty; character training without a store of knowledge is blind. Schooling is not the whole of education.

EXTENSION OF REMARKS

OF

HON. JOHN R. PILLION

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Saturday, September 12, 1959

Mr. PILLION. Mr. Speaker, for the past decade, or longer, I have noticed an increasing interest on the part of the clergy in this country in economics, politics, and sociology.

A considerable segment of our Protestant ministers appear to be ready to replace our freedoms and our form of government with socialistic measures.

My attention was recently called to a publication entitled "Christian Economics." This most worthwhile publication is published by the Christian Freedom Foundation, 250 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y.

Its basic philosophy is:

We stand for the free market—the economic system, with the least amount of government and the greatest amount of Christianity.

I am pleased and delighted to know that a publication of this character is available for circulation to the Protestant ministers in this country.

The following article by Rev. E. F. Molnar, Ph. D., is typical of this publication. Dr. Molnar's article is most timely in view of Mr. Khrushchev's impending visit to this country:

526496—72578

WHO SHOULD OWN CAPITAL?

(By Rev. E. F. Molnar, Ph. D., St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, Bathurst, New Brunswick)

Who should own the means of production? Private individuals or one single political party? That is the great debate of our generation.

If you believe that the people should own capital than you are for freedom. If you believe that a single political party should appropriate, in the form of a monopoly of production, all forms of property, lands, animals, factories, machines and money, then you have identified yourself with communism or socialism—the rule of a single political party.

Public opinion on this vital question affords an insight into the most carefully guarded secrets of the Communist Party—the growing belief of the Communists that the whole venture of communism is based on a blunder and promoted by bluff. Party members are beginning to sense that the monolithic monopoly of production enjoyed by the Communist Parties in Russia and other states cannot find the way from absolute tyranny—the rule of terror, the secret police, the concentration camps and liquidation of all dissenters—for a better world.

The writer questioned 100 people on each of the following propositions and with the results noted below. In each case the 100 persons represented all walks of life:

Should any single political party appropriate all forms of property, lands, animals, factories, labor, machines, and moneys? Yes, none. No, 94. Indifferent, 4. No opinion, 2.

Should people own capital, all forms of property, lands, animals, factories, labor, machines, and moneys? Yes, 96. No, none. Indifferent, 2. No answer, 2.

The overwhelming answer given to the first question shows that communism can never take over the central power by vote of the majority. People everywhere, even in Russia, are opposed to monopoly. The world has never before witnessed such a complete monopoly and such an absolute control of a nation's human and material resources. The Russian arch conspirators conjured up into real existence that fearful and fallacious type of big capital that devoured its own children and sets even the members of one family against each other.

The positive answer given to the second question shows the will of the people that capital should not be united under the ownership of one single party as in Russia.

The true issue that divides the people of the world in our present world crisis is one party-owned monopoly of production against peoples' free enterprise rooted in privately owned capital i.e., means of production. The Russian type of production can be upheld solely by terror while the production of the free world is anchored to the validity of law enacted by a majority vote.

By contrast, freemen owning property may set up a free government based on law which is quite capable of adaptation not only for maximum production but to safeguard the rights and privileges and promote the well-being of its citizens, leading on to their highest spiritual and material welfare.

The people everywhere should learn the plain truth about the fundamental issue of the present world crisis. Guns cannot decide the issue. It will be resolved when the truth is widely perceived. A government of law over a property-owning people can evolve as needed to promote their well-being, but a government of tyranny and monopoly of the means of production suppress human liberty and human welfare in order to maintain itself in power.

Presbytery of Miramichi

Re INDUSTRIAL PEACE

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

WHEREAS, wherever there is production there must be the physical means of producing, which is capital, whether in the West or in Russia; and

WHEREAS, the question--"Who should own capital"--which is the hub of world turmoil today, has been answered erroneously in Russia where a single political party takes the control and direction of all capital unto itself to create a national monopoly; against this system, North America has evolved a peoples' capitalism out of the laissez-faire capitalism which existed in the 18th and 19th centuries; peoples' capitalism means the fragmentation of capital power as opposed to BIG CAPITAL where it is the exclusive property of the one single ruling political party; and

WHEREAS, the structure of the Russian economic system is seen as a monolith wherein all capital assets and labour are the exclusive monopoly of the ruling party; State capitalism or socialism tolerates a multi-party system which should not be confused with the monopolistic party of the Russian system rigid and inflexible; and

WHEREAS, to some, the large corporations and powerful trusts which exist on the North American Continent seem to operate in some cases in monopoly and free from competition, in a free-market economy, competition can spring up and coupled with the protection offered by anti-trust legislation curb any flagrant abuse of their position and strength; this stands in strong contrast to the monopoly of production advocated by the misnamed "communist" party, the establishment of which monopoly is dependent on the overthrow of responsible constitutional government; and

WHEREAS, both management and labour should think, feel, plan, and move in accordance with the stewardship principle as it is revealed in Matthew 25: 14-30; a nominal ownership having entrusted funds to their care, they must be used with responsibility and loyalty; real ownership of property as found in the 18th and 19th centuries was uncontrolled and at times irresponsible; with the advent of the amendable labour legislation and wide-spread public ownership the use of capital has been curbed of its excesses;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Miramichi humbly overtures the Venerable the General Assembly to call on both management and labour forces to lay a foundation for industrial peace and stability at summit meetings; that they may consider a re-statement of the free market-economy's principle known as the RIGHT TO WORK in an atmosphere freed from all traces of an obsolete hostile dependency feeling and wherein neither management nor labour will strive for, or covet to, establish special privileges; that they may consider devoting a portion of their labour-management research resources to the study of a large corporation bought and operated as a model wherein firsthand data can be obtained which may contribute to the system of democratic and industrial peace; that both management and labour assume their responsibilities in the ultimate defence of the Free World by laying down the foundations of industrial peace without which a competitive co-existence with Russian and Chinese monopolistic economies may undermine freedom; finally, be it resolved that the Church, under the authority and light of the Divine Word calls on both management and labour forces to recognize their hostility as a remnant of the struggles of past centuries when there was no order or procedure in their relations and to control these obsolete hostile dependency feelings so that peoples' capitalism may evolve unhindered to establish an era of industrial peace in our time.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On my own behalf, as well as on behalf of Midland for America, I would like to express our most sincere appreciation for your letter of October 26, 1960, and for the autographed, cloth bound copies of your book, Masters of Deceit, which have been received by us.

I feel that your offer of these books will provide the students of Midland High School with a great deal of motivation to read the books which we have distributed to them.

I was gratified to be informed^{Tex 95} last week by the principal of Midland High School, [redacted] that since the distribution of the paper back copies of your book to the senior students, he observed a great many of the students carrying their copies around with them along with their regular school books and reading your book during their study periods. Again, our appreciation to you for writing this fine book in the first instance, and in your interest in and assistance to our local program for having the book widely read.

Agency (451A)
[redacted] U.S. Information Service, U.S. Embassy, Rome, Italy, on 10/14/60 advised that he had contacted Editore Sugar, publisher in Milan, Italy, concerning translation and publication of the Director's book "Masters of Deceit."

Editore Sugar advised [redacted] that they would translate and publish "Masters of Deceit" if the USIS would agree to purchase 500 copies of the Italian version of the book.

Mr. Alfred V. Boerner, Chief of the USIS, in Rome, on 10/17/60 advised that he would agreeable to underwrite the purchase of 250 copies of the book, but hesitated to state that he would purchase 500 copies because of limited budget allowances. Boerner requested the Legat's advice as to how many copies the Legat would be willing to make a commitment for.

The Italian version of the book will cost approximately 2500 Italian lire ($4.00 U.S.), 250 copies would cost approximately $1,000. Should "Masters of Deceit" be translated into Italian, the Rome Office would require a minimum of 100 copies to make available to important Italian contacts of the office. Another 150 copies could be distributed and could be used in cementing existing contacts and developing new contacts.

ask 11/9/60
No commitments have been made to the USIS officials in Rome. The Bureau is requested, however, to consider authorizing the purchase of 100 books by the Rome Office inasmuch as it is felt that USIS in Rome can be prevailed upon to assume cost for the remaining 400 copies. In this regard, it is also

FROM : Mr. A. Jones

SUBJECT: "MASTERS OF DECEIT"
PROPOSED ITALIAN TRANSLATION

You will recall that in September 1960 Legat, Rome advised us that he had been in contact with [redacted] United States Information Agency (USIA) in Rome, concerning the possible translation of captioned book into Italian to be distributed throughout that country. [redacted] had indicated to Legat, Rome that the firm, Sugar Editore in Milan, Italy, would undoubtedly be selected to publish the book in Italian. At that time we instructed Legat, Rome to advise [redacted] that the Italian publisher selected by USIA should contact Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., New York City, requesting permission for an Italian edition. We noted that the Bureau had no objection to Sugar Editore; however, we advised Legat, Rome that the Bureau desired to approve any illustrative material in the book. In addition, we wrote Edgar T. Rigg of Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc. indicating that the firm, Sugar Editore would probably be selected to publish an Italian edition of Mr. Hoover's book, and that we had instructed our Rome representative to advise USIA to have the Italian publisher contact Mr. Rigg for permission to publish the book in Italian.

By letter 10-20-60 Legat, Rome advised that [redacted] has indicated that Sugar Editore would agree to translate and publish "Masters of Deceit" if the USIA would in turn agree to purchase 500 copies of this version. The USIA in Italy has indicated that they would agree to underwrite a purchase of 250 copies of the Italian version, but could not promise the purchase of 500 copies because of limited budget. USIA requested the Legat's advice as to how many copies the Bureau will be willing to make a commitment for.

Legat, Rome states that each copy will cost approximately $4.00 in United States money or approximately $1,000 for 250 copies. Legat, Rome further advises that that office would require a minimum of 100 copies to make available to important Italian contacts. He has requested that the Bureau consider authorizing the purchase of 100 books by the Rome Office since he feels that USIA can be prevailed upon to assume cost for the remaining 400 copies.

RE: "MASTERS OF DECEIT"

Inasmuch as the 100 books would be given to important Italian liaison contacts of our Rome Office, it is felt that the cost of the books (approximately $400) should be handled out of FBIRA funds. If this is approved, we will advise Legat, Rome, that he should purchase the 100 books and bill them to the FBIRA. We will also remind Legat Rome of previous instructions that Sugar Editore must have permission of Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc. to publish Italian edition.

RECOMMENDATION:

That approval be given to handling the cost of 100 copies of the Italian version of "Masters of Deceit" out of FBIRA funds inasmuch as these books will be furnished to important Italian liaison contacts of Legat, Rome. Upon such approval this memo should be returned to the Crime Research Section so that Legat, Rome, may be advised to purchase the books and bill them to the FBIRA.

The John Birch Society is allegedly an anticommunist organization with branches over the various parts of the country. Our field offices have been alerted to watch its activities inasmuch as its head, Robert Welch, indicated at one time that he thought a group having the appearance of a front organization might be effective in attracting true subversives.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Recently there has been brought to my attention The John Birch Society, organized about 1959 by one Robert Welch. It professes to fight communism. Your book Masters of Deceit is an eye--opener and has answered some of my questions, but what I should now like to know is how an average citizen like me goes about determining the veracity and reliability of such organizations. We, as a nation, certainly need to unite and actively fight communism, but how does one know when one is really doing the job and when one is being duped into helping the communists?

Our local F.B.I. and Attorney General's office can give me no information concerning this society. Can you?

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

We have recently acquired a copy of your book entitled "Masters of Deceit" and wish to commend you on the wonderful service you have performed in presenting to the people of America, what we face and what we must do to preserve the heritage bestowed upon us by the Founding Fathers.

The enormity of subversion overwhelms one, but we hope to do our meager share in combating the problem.

We believe an act of God must have had a hand in placing a man of your character and ability in the Office which you hold. We sincerely hope that you will continue to serve for many years to come. This is probably a selfish attitude from our viewpoint but we feel you are a dedicated patriot and will continue to fight the good fight until the end.

We had the opportunity to view the film "Operation Abolition" yesterday and must say it does make one's blood boil. It is almost unbelievable (until one has seen the film) that individuals can defy law and order as they did in San Francisco. That goes back to the lack of patriotism and nationalism and respect for law and order, which has been flouted on all fronts.

Certainly something is lacking in our educational system, which includes both the training in the home and in the schools when young people can be swayed by hoodlums in the manner shown in the film.

Thank you from us as individuals for the constant vigil you and your Department maintain against the enemy.

Dear

I have received your letter of November 11, 1960, regarding my book, "Masters of Deceit," and the interest which prompted you to write is indeed appreciated.

Your offer of assistance in combating communism is most encouraging; however, I have always felt that private citizens, acting through their civic, labor, religious, educational and similar organizations, constitute one of our most effective weapons for inflicting setbacks on the Communist Party.

Please accept my best wishes for success in your studies as a pre-legal student at Bradley University. I am forwarding, under separate cover, some material outlining various aspects of this Bureau's work in addition to some of my comments on communism which may be of interest to you.

Dear Sir:

I am in the process of reading your book, Masters of Deceit, and, being very impressed with its contents, I would like to know if I could aid the Bureau in some way by combating communism. I want to make a more antagonistic approach toward communism than my duty as a private citizen of the United States requires. I am willing to spend a large portion of my time, without pay, battling the world-wide menace of communism.

At present, I am a pre-legal student at Bradley University in Peoria, Illinois. My schedule is fairly light; thus, I have plenty of time to aid my country in anyway that I can.

If there is something I can do, no matter how trivial or tedious, please let me know of it. I have given the matter much thought and I would like to do all that I can in suppressing communism.

Please consider my proposal seriously. Thank you for your trouble.

By airtel 11-14-60. SAC, Miami has advised that

Cuba
 [redacted] Spanish language newspaper, Miami Springs, Florida, during an interview with a Bureau Agent, had expressed concern over the penetration of communism in Latin America and that he [redacted] stated that Cuba is being used as a gateway for this penetration. [redacted] deplored the fact that not enough has been done by the United States to educate Latin Americans on the subject of communism. [redacted] expressed desire to publish pertinent portions of the Spanish edition of "Masters of Deceit" in [redacted]. It was suggested to [redacted] that if arrangements could be effected for publication of portions of "Masters of Deceit" [redacted] that each article be followed by an editorial comment to the effect that Spanish language copies of Mr. Hoover's book could be acquired by the reader by sending a money order to [redacted]. The Bureau Agent interviewing [redacted] pointed out that he, of course, was not in a position to make commitments on behalf of the Bureau as the Bureau had not been consulted about this matter and he did not know whether there might be restrictions caused by copyright laws which might make the project infeasible.

Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
Ninth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, NW

Dear Mr. Hoover:

There is enclosed an article which I have prepared for submission to the American Journal of Psychiatry for publication in that journal. In my article I quote from your book "Masters of Deceit." I note that all rights to this book are reserved and that your permission must be obtained before any material is quoted from your book. I ask that you grant me this permission.

I am a graduate of Baylor Medical College. I am licensed to practice medicine in the State of Texas. I have been employed by the Veterans Administration for the past 25 years. I am a psychiatrist, a diplomate of the American Board of Psychiatry and I am a Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association. I sincerely believe that psychiatrists should interest themselves in the psychological weakness of communism in order that a better psychological approach to the defeat of communism may be developed.

I greatly admire your work and found your book "Masters of Deceit" to be very stimulating.

Very truly yours,

Assistant Director, Professional

PARANOID MECHANISMS IN COMMUNISM

By John R. Shawver, M.D.*

In order to understand a man's philosophy we must understand the man. Communism is a way of life, a philosophy of living that is essentially the product of one man's mind. That man was Karl Marx. If we read the history of his life we find that he was very well endowed intellectually. He had no difficulty in acquiring knowledge in school. Following graduation he showed no interest in holding a job or supporting himself. His energies were devoted to rebellion against the established order.

His writings made him persona non grata in Germany. He moved to England and continued his writing there. He had married before leaving Germany. There were seven children born of this union. This description was translated from an article by Gustav Mayer and is taken from J. Edgar Hoover's book "Masters of Deceit:"¹ "In private life Marx is a highly disorderly, cynical person ... Washing himself, combing his hair, changing his underwear and shirts are a rarity with him. ... He is often lazy for days, but if he has a great deal of work, he works day and night with untiring endurance. Very often he stays up the entire night and then lies down on the couch fully dressed at noon and sleeps through until evening, undisturbed by the hustle and bustle of family life ... The room overlooking the street is the parlor and the bedroom is to the rear. In the entire apartment there is not a single piece of clean and good furniture. Everything is broken, tattered and ragged; everything is covered with finger-thick dust, everywhere there is the greatest disorder. In the center of the parlor stands a large table covered by an overhanging oilcloth. It is cluttered with his manuscripts, books, newspapers, the children's toys, scraps of cloth from his's wife's sewing as well as some tea-cups with chipped rims, dirty spoons, knives, forks, a lamp, an inkwell, drinking glasses, a Dutch claypipe, and ashes. In short, all this conglomeration is piled high and on one table. A junkshop would have to cede honors to this extraordinary ensemble. When stepping into Marx's room the coal and tobacco smog makes one grope around the room as in a cave until one's eyes gradually develop a tolerance to these fumes and one is able to make out, as if in a fog, a few objects in the room. Everything is dirty; everything is full of dust. As for sitting down, that is a really dangerous matter. Here is a chair with only three legs; over there the children are playing at cooking on another chair which happens to be still unbroken. Sure enough, that is the one which is offered to the visitor, but without any effort to clean off the food. You sit down at the risk of ruining a pair of trousers ... Such is a faithful picture of the family life of the Communist chief, Marx..."

We see from this description the lack of realist drive, lack of responsibility and lack of guilt characteristic of paranoid schizophrenia. Marx could not change into a productive, responsible member of society. In his communism the world is changed to meet his needs. In his world of phantasy (An idealistic communistic world) every person would be rewarded according to his needs and not according to his ability and productivity. This is the old phantasy of the schizophrenic. In phantasy the world is destroyed and a new world created. The communistic dictator is free of guilt because he is the savior of the proletariat.

Marx said the capitalistic world must be destroyed. In order to rationalize his own miserable poverty he put the blame on the capitalist system. Capitalism became the scapegoat. Destroy capitalism and build a new world.

In this New World Marx would be comfortable and all his needs would be met. Marx was firmly convinced that the world revolution would be violent and destructive.

The Judaic Christian philosophy teaches that if a person mistreats his fellow man he is a sinner. Because of his sin he suffers from guilt. In order to rid oneself of guilt, one must confess, ask forgiveness, make restitution and make a gift to the church or to charity. The church is the external symbol of an individual's conscience. How did Marx free himself of guilt? He used the old paranoid mechanisms of projection, externalization, denial and accusation. Anything that the faithful followers of Marx do to further the cause is justified. All wrongdoing is denied if it any way furthers the cause.

The modern communist leaders understand our preoccupation with guilt. They have made use of it time and again. If the people of an underprivileged nation live in ignorance and poverty it is not because they have had poor leaders and have not developed universal education but because the United States is a wealthy nation and its citizens have invested certain sums of money in the undeveloped country. We, as a nation, are put through the wringer of guilt by the communist mobs organized in certain countries that our leaders have visited. In addition to being accused as the exploiter of the poor and downtrodden, it is pointed out that we used the atom bomb. Of course a thinking person knows that if Stalin had had the atom bomb during World War II he would have used it against his enemies and perhaps even against his friends. In order to rid ourselves of the accusation of national guilt that the communist leaders make, we give away our substance to other nations. If other nations take from us without waiting for us to give to them, we do not stand up for our moral rights, for fear we will be accused of being a bully of weaker nations.

Erich Fromm in his book "Escape from Freedom"² pointed out the need of people to recreate the family constellation with the all powerful father who, although at times cruel and unjust, gave protection to the dependent children and saw that they were not hungry or cold. In Germany, Hitler in order to establish his role as a dictator found a scapegoat. He told the German people that the cause of their misery after World War I and the reason for the loss of that war, was the world wide Jewish conspiracy. His remedy was to kill all Jews.

Now the communists of our day say that the cause of all the unhappiness in the world is the United States. Destroy the United States and all will be well with the world. The other nations are so weak they will fall into line. We must be destroyed because we spy on Russia. Spying is an old communist practice which is never a sin for a communist but only a sin when the United States engages in this practice.

Hitler, of course, used all the old paranoid mechanisms that the communists use. One significant difference was the preservation of the educated people. He preserved the class that supervised. Because of his preservation of this class, he was able in a few short years to turn a prostrate Post-World War I Germany into a top world power capable of producing the supplies necessary to wage World War II.

In Russia the communist set themselves back when they destroyed the educated people of the old Czarist era. In preparing for World War II and in fighting World War II the Russian leaders found that they must have an educated population if they are to increase production and raise the standards of living in that country. This need for a better informed, better educated and better trained population presents the Russian dictator with a real dilemma.

In his excellent interpretation of brain washing as practiced by the Chinese communists on the captives of the Chinese Army in Korea, William E. Mayer³ found that the captive is influenced to believe that he has been betrayed by his country, that no one cares for him and that his fellow prisoners are not to be trusted. He is urged to inform on his fellow prisoners that do not follow the communist line. Suspicion of others and withdrawal from emotional contact with others is the proper conduct for the captive. Brain washing sets up the basic foundation necessary for the development of paranoid schizophrenia. It destroys the captive's ego. He no longer thinks for himself and is unable to plan with his fellow prisoners because he is suspicious of their motives. The safest thing for the captive to do is nothing of his own volition. He waits to be told what to do. To do what he is told with outstanding ability and zeal may be dangerous as it might be a threat to the person who is his superior. There is every reason to think that the citizen of Russia is subject to the same pressures used on the prisoner-of-war in Korea. He must follow the party line; he dares not depart from it. He cannot discuss the defects in communism with his fellow citizens for fear they will inform on him. He must not think for himself. He is a threat to his supervisors if he in any way becomes superior to them. Thus the dilemma of the dictator of Russia. A well educated and well informed people are more productive than an uneducated and poorly informed people; but educated people have a tendency to think for themselves.

There is reason to think that the communist dictator unconsciously knows that his is a false system. It has in it elements of unreality and delusion. The dictators of communist countries are very reluctant to permit the people of those countries to vote for or against communism in a free election. There is a fear that the majority of people might see the false ideals and aims of communism.

We as psychiatrists, based on our experience with paranoid patients, know that anyone who develops a paranoid condition loses some of his productive ability. The psychic energy previously used for productivity is channeled into suspicion, fear, hostility and delusion. If communism is a system based essentially on jealousy and envy of others and the determination that through the communist system no one will rise above another as a reward for his productivity, then it has a built-in weakness that can be exploited.

In the United States as a child matures into an adult and moves away from his dependence on his father and mother he has symbols to turn to. He has his mother country that shelters him with citizenship and opportunity. The father symbol is God the Father. If he has faith he is assured that God is his protector. The dependence of a child on his father and mother can in the adult be transferred to God and Country.

The Russian leaders professes to follow the teaching of Marx that dialectic materialism is the only philosophy that man needs. Dialectic materialism contains two concepts. Dialectic means that everything changes and there are conflicts as these changes occur, but man must change with these conflicts. Materialism means there is no God, man is all there is and he is small and ineffective. He submits to the dictator who theoretically is acting for the proletariat. Again theoretically this is the "have not class." Actually communist countries are ruled by a dictator who is surrounded by a gang. On the death, or elimination by other means, of the dictator this gang through manipulation and conspiracy picks one of their members as the new dictator.

We see that this line i.e. dialectic materialism serves the purpose of taking from the individual faith in himself, faith in God the all powerful Father and takes from him his love of country. With this loss of emotional attachment there is a potential weakness in the individual's courage in the face of attack. Early in World War II the Russian leaders realizing that this weakness might lead to defeat by the German army revived and pushed the theme that Mother Russia must be defended and preserved by all her people. There was even some revival of prayer to God when the future was the blackest. With the revival of patriotism the Russian army became much more effective.

Marx had the need to free himself of those emotions that are warm and kind. He freed himself of love of his fellow man that is part and parcel of true democracy. His emotions were cold, distorted and sick. Communism incooperates this emotional illness. If it is true that communism is a philosophy that is a projection of Marx's emotional illness, then it follows that subsequent leaders of the communist world have a similar illness.

As Lenin secured control of Russia he revealed his paranoid feelings by his suspicion and accusation of those who had helped him rise to power. Some he banished from the country, others just disappeared. Certainly Stalin had a withdrawn, suspicious, hostile attitude toward all of his associates and toward the world as well. In 1956 Krushchev denounced Stalin in bitter terms. This is his description of Stalin quoted from "Masters of Deceit"¹ "Stalin was a very distrustful man, sickly suspicious; we knew this from our work with him. He could look at a man and say: "Why are your eyes so shifty today," or "Why are you turning so much today and avoiding to look me directly in the eyes?" The sickly suspicion created in him a general distrust even toward eminent Party workers whom he had known for years. Everywhere and in everything he saw "enemies," "two-facers" and "spies."

We see in Fidel Castro the flat affect, the disorganized, rambling superficial thinking and the paranoid projection of the emotionally sick. This type of behavior and thinking has a great appeal to those who feel underprivileged and defeated. The large body of poorly educated, poorly trained and poorly paid people in Cuba affords a fertile field for the growth of Castro's sick philosophy. He has repeatedly assured the people of Cuba that all their troubles are caused by the United States. United States citizens and corporations by investing money in Cuban enterprises deprived the Cuban people of their chance to improve their living standards. We see the scapegoat theme that all dictators use. This may be simply stated: "The fault is not mine or yours, but it is those people who are at fault."

It is my impression from newspaper accounts that the present dictator of Russia, Mr. Krushchev, is not entirely comfortable in the paranoid system that is communism. He, unfortunately, knows very little about any other system. The failure of communism to meet all of his emotional needs and subsequent doubt about all things in communism being the best, may explain his confused, contradictory, ambivalent behavior. His personality pattern seems to be mixed cyclothymic and paranoid. However, when he is frustrated in his manipulations he must retreat into paranoid accusations against the United States.

Paranoid people deny and reject emotional ties. There is left to the paranoid one method of classifying others. People he encounters are either weak or strong. If they are weak, they are despised and threatened; if strong they are feared and sometimes respected. We know that paranoid patients adjust best when the rules are carefully explained and enforced impartially. Because of the paranoid elements in communism the leaders of this country are most successful in dealing with the communist dictators when they negotiate from a position of strength rather than weakness.

SUMMARY: The mechanisms that communists use are not new and unusual. They are very familiar to psychiatrists who deal with paranoid people. These paranoid mechanisms have a strong appeal to people who are poorly informed, have not fared as well as others, are dependent, jealous and envious. Communism is an external projection of the emotionally illness of Karl Marx. Marx could not change himself. Since he could not change, he did not feel comfortable in a world of reality and resorted to fantasy. In communism he devised a world to fit his emotional needs. Theoretically in this communistic world all dependent people will find their needs met by the dictator. There are many weaknesses in this system that can be exploited. Because of their training and experience psychiatrists have a fund of knowledge that can be of real value to national leaders in the cold war against communism.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director,
Federal Bureau of Investigation,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

277
This is one small voice from an alert and inquisitive citizen. I hope this is read by people in your department who can straighten me out on a few matters that bother me.

First of all, let me congratulate you on the fine book, Masters of Deceit, and upon your continuation in your position as head of the FBI. Keep up the good work, we certainly need it!!

Matters that bother me:

1. Your book has been occupying lower shelves and obscure corners on news racks in this area.
2. The Congressman-elect, James C. Corman, virtually repudiated all, or most all, of your statements during his campaign. I have a very interesting tape recording of his very words.
3. There are several odd groups operating out here that seem to be too nice, to put it bluntly.
 - a. West Valley Human Relations Group, Canoga Park.
 - b. Woodland Hills Community Co-ordinating Council.
 - c. West Valley Forum, Pierce Junior College, Woodland Hills.
 - d. Women for Legislative Action, No. Hollywood, I believe.
4. Tremendous onrush of UNICEF and UN programs, offices, and propaganda, sponsored by seemingly phoney organizations, and fronted by Steve Allen types, and other stars of stage, screen, and TV.
5. A tremendous number of ultra-liberal college professors who hide behind academic freedom.
6. A surprisingly high incidence of one-sided books in the local news stands and a surprisingly low incidence of any pro-American literature. 62-104277-1730
7. Stepped up activities of the ACLU towards the abolishment of the House Un-American Activities Committee.
8. A pro-American broadcast refused paid time on KFI, but accepted over KNX (Kent Courtney's Independent-American radio tape recording) REC-10 EX-123
9. Outward support of the Soviet Union by the sale of Skoda automobiles by an automobile dealer, Willy Witkin, Inc., 17554 Ventura Blvd., Encino, California. These automobiles do not mention country of origin, but they do list the last point of assembly as Hamburg, Germany. Protests to this dealer results in threats and extreme defense of the democratic country of Czechoslovakia. More inquiry reveal the paint is supposedly DuPont, Dunlop tires, and so on, but only upon intense inquiry will the main factory country be mentioned. Exposure of these cars results in physical violence in the form of swinging two-by-fours. And I have access to photographs to prove it. The public is not informed on these automobiles, and the unsuspecting ones actually are duped into furnishing aid and comfort to the enemy. This, is treason, Article 3, Section 3, Constitution. The gentlemen in charge also claim that the United States State Department is mixed up in the deal somehow. Very strange situation...and potentially dangerous. On top of this, the local stores are flooded with Czech bicycles, chinaware, and glass products, to mention a few.

Mr. Hoover, just what in God's name is going on in this country where a patriotic citizen is subversive, where a little militant action to expose a product results in law suit threats~~pt~~ plus an investigation by your agency, a complaining letter to a school board results in another threatened law suit for "an un-Christian and libelous attack", a direct accusation that I am un-American and subversive, flag flying is for nuts, a local college professor waxes exuberantly on the merits of the scientists of humanity (Communists) and belittles the United States of America to the laughing stock of the classroom, a movement to fly a flag "must be resisted", togetherness and collectiveness preached and practiced in the kindergarten and lower grade schools, the Boy Scouts infiltrated with all kinds of odd theories, and an and on it goes. Just what is going on?

And when is it going to end??

Oh, yes, and to top it all off, the mental health laws now have been twisted up into a weapon of state controlled thought, with cases already on record.

I sincerely hope that you haven't been bored by my exposition, but I am certain that something needs to be done. Do you have any suggestions?

I have quite a number of friends who think along the same lines that I do, and I am quite sure that all of them would be more than willing to sit down and talk things over in more detail with one of your representatives if you could spare one sometime in the near future.

Sincerely yours,

P.S. Another group that is near genuine - American Ex-Prisoners of War Association, I heard one of their representative's claim that Chinese Communists are different from Japanese Communists from Russian Communists, etc. Real strange, to say the least.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover,
Director Federal Bureau Investigation,
United States Dept. of Justice,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Your book "Masters of Deceit," is wonderful, and also frightening, and enlightening in its clarity. I just finished reading it, and have told many of my friends, and acquaintances about it. I will tell the rest of them as I go along, as it takes time, and strength to discuss it, and also explain it. I hope all of them will read your book, and tell others.

One of my acquaintances said, (very sarcastically): "Why doesn't the President do something about the communists?" I told her I would ask you, but what does the U. S. President have to do with, & about it as that is your Department, and I know you are doing everything possible to guard our country.

A friend of mine wants to know what is being done, and what can be done about American-born communists, who are working against our country? She said we cannot deport them, so wants to know, as well as I, how that is handled, as they hide behind the 5th Amendment. If that must be kept a secret, it is all right with us.

I will appreciate, and be very grateful to receive a letter from you, explaining these questions, (if permissible) (when you have the time) so that I can show your letter to my friends, and acquaintances. It will be valued very highly, and I shall treasure it the rest of my life. I wish you good health, so as to keep up the fine work you are doing, and I know it means happiness for you.

Good luck to you from an American-born citizen, who loves her country very much, and wants to help to keep America free.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

off
 Your book "Masters of Deceit," is wonderful and also frightening, and enlightening in its clarity. I just finished reading it, and have told many of my friends, and acquaintances about it. I will tell the rest of them as I go along, as it takes time, and strength to discuss it, and also explain it. I hope all of them will read your book, and tell others. B

One of my acquaintances said (very sarcastically):
 "Why doesn't the President do something about the communists?"
 I told her I would ask you, but what does the U.S. President have to do with + about it as that is your Department, and I know you

A friend of mine wants to know what is being done, and what can be done about American born communists, who are working against our country? She said we cannot deport them, so wants to know as well as I, how that is handled, as they hide behind the 5th Amendment. If that must be kept a secret, it is all right with us.

I will appreciate, and be very grateful to receive a letter from you, explaining these questions (if permissible) (when you have the time) so that I can show your letter to my friends and acquaintances. It will be valued very highly, and I shall treasure it the rest of my life.

Good luck to you from

Sincerely yours,

P.S.

Please pass the information along to the Immigration Dept., that from what I see, & hear, the quota for foreigners coming to the United States should be lowered; also the period to become a naturalized citizen should be ten years instead of five,
is my candid opinion.

Dear Mr. Hoover

I am a high school student 16 years old. I attend Waldo High School, Waldo Wisconsin. I earn average grades.

I have read a book you wrote Masters of Deceit. I thought It was a very well written book. I learned much from it. The book gave me an idea to write a speech for Forensics which is a interschool speaking activity. I have not yet written it but the name will be Communism in the United States. Would you please send me some information on the present communist situation in the United States. Please just general data and the numbers.

I respect you very much because you are so honest and truthfull and believe in intellectualism and hard work. Such modern problems interest me and that is why I ask a person whom I respect. I do not want a lot of information because you are very busy. You may not even read the letter, but maybe one of your office hands can help me. Thank you.

respectfully yours

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Chief of the F.B.I.
U.S.A.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Only recently I finished reading your book, "Masters of Deceit". There were two things which stood out to me, and which I felt should be mentioned to you.

First was the fact that the very tactics which you mentioned as being used by the Communists are the same, almost exactly, as those used by the Roman Catholic Church to soften a people and take away their freedoms. The second was that the areas which you cite as being strongly communistic in our country are also the areas where we have the heaviest Roman Catholic population.

Being an American citizen who has spent the greater part of the last twenty years in Brazil, much of that time being spent in the southern part of the state of Ceara where Rome reigns, I have often lifted a prayer of gratitude to God because He saw fit to allow me to be born in the United States of America with its wonderful heritage of freedom and opportunity. My heart was broken when Senator Kennedy was elected to the presidency of the United States. This represents a wedge for a totalitarian power which has already shown its impotency to defeat communism and which is just as anxious to rule the world and to crush humanity under its heel as are the communistic leaders.

Would it not be possible for you to make a careful study of this subject and write a second book of warning to our people against this second, equal danger to our American way of life? On a stamp (4 cents) which came on a recent letter from friends in the States, I read, "I have sworn... Hostility against every form of Tyranny over the mind of man", a quotation from Thomas Jefferson. May that be the cry of our Protestant leadership in these extremely dangerous and dark times!

Sincerely

Dear Sir:

I recently joined a local study group with one principal aim being a study of Communism and its threat to our country. The more I study the broader and more serious the menace appears to be.

With this group, I've read books by several authors, all of them worthwhile and educational, but can only conclude your "Masters of Deceit" to be the best in the field. We consider it basic and required reading.

I want to express my gratitude to you for your many years of faithful work and leadership with the FBI as well as for the writing of this book. I know no organization, even with fine leadership, can function properly without good personnel, so my appreciation includes all members of your organization.

It is nice to know we have an FBI to protect the innocent as well as pursue the guilty.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Goldman:

Special Agent Norris S. Harzenstein of our Philadelphia Office has advised me of your thoughtful plan to furnish copies of my book, Masters of Deceit, to schools in the Philadelphia area and has forwarded your check for $500 payable to the FBI Recreation Association. I have arranged for 170 copies to be shipped immediately to Mr. Allen H. Wetter, Superintendent of Schools, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

I want you to know of my deep appreciation for the confidence you have shown in the value of the publication. The book was written in the hope it would become an easy-to-read text for students and other Americans interested in learning more about the threat of communism. Certainly, the students of today will shortly be confronted with major decisions in the struggle against this conspiracy to destroy the American heritage, and the effectiveness of their resistance will depend on their knowledge of the history, aims and methods of the communist movement.

As a token of my regard, I am forwarding, under separate cover, a copy of Masters of Deceit which I was pleased to autograph to you.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Hoover: -

Two months ago a friend of mine lent me your work "Masters of Deceit" in a pocket book edition and since then I have been looking for it unsuccessfully.

By the above I donot mean that I have not found this book at regular book stores; what I mean is that I have not found it in the racks usually devoted to unexpensive editions in the several drugstores, newstands and like places I have visited in the normal routine of life during the last two months, both in this and in the New York area, including such public places of heavy traffic of pedestrians as the Miami and Newark airports and the Port Authority bus terminal in New York.

It is disappointing that this book is not prominently displayed in most of the book racks of places like the ones above mentioned because the American people should be awakened to the fact that deceit is the strongest weapon of international communism and together with subversion can destroy any country.

Your book, from the little I had time to read, exposes this clearly and exposure of the communists methods, of what communism has done and is doing in many countries, should be the strongest weapon of democracy.

AGM/sem

P.S. On the subject of Exposure vs. Deceit, I take liberty in sending you herewith copy of a letter of even date to a friend of mine.

Dear [redacted]

I heard with interest this morning your comments on the activities of the Special sub-committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce and specially the reading of the letter sent by the President of the Chamber to the heads of the companies having business in Latin American countries.

I think the recommendations in that letter are very proper and fitting in that they suggest improvement of your relationship and aiding to economic development. These programs are good and deserve full support as they build up good will with the informed and well intentioned nationals of Latin American countries.

However, in addition to the above, and even more directly important, is the recognition of how the sinister campaign of the communists works to influence the minds of the people. You Americans are taking a very serious risk if you do not appreciate clearly that your best deeds will not influence the tactics of the communists.

Your government cannot so improve its policies, practices and good neighbors' programs, as to have any effect upon the lies and insults pronounced all over the world on orders from Moscow.

You Americans cannot so perfect your behavior as to affect their hate campaigns and smug slogans of "Yankees go home". Your businesses cannot so reduce their honest dividend as to avoid being called "Yankee Imperialists".

Standards of living must and will be improved but such improvements will never suffice to affect communists claims of your responsibility for the poverty of others.

Their tactics are known but very little has been done yet to meet them. The big task is to have a great majority of the free people recognize this threat to their freedom. Deceit is the strongest weapon of communism and exposure of what the communists have done in many countries and is doing in Cuba, should be the first weapon of democracy.

Sincerely yours,

Its policies, as voiced through its editorials, have consistently been pro-U. S., anti-Communist, and anti-dictatorship.

Enclosed is an editorial which appeared in the 11/9/60 issue of the [redacted] which typifies its attitude toward Communism.

During the course of his discussion with SA DAVIS, [redacted] expressed deep concern over the penetration of Communism in Latin America and he pointed out that Cuba is being used as a gateway for this penetration. He stated that Communism under FIDEL CASTRO in Cuba is more than a Cuban political issue, that it is an international issue of critical importance, with implications which jeopardize the security of the democratic world.

[redacted] said that in his opinion the majority of Latin Americans are extremely naive and uninformed concerning the insidious threat of international Communism. He deplored the fact that not enough has been done by the U. S. and free institutions in this country to educate the peoples of Latin American upon the subject of Communism.

When SA DAVIS pointed out that there is a Spanish edition of "MASTERS OF DECEIT" by the Director, which is the most authoritative and up to date book on the subject of Communism, [redacted] expressed a desire of [redacted] chapters or pertinent portions of chapters from this book, which would have an educational effect [redacted]

SA DAVIS pointed out to [] that he was not in a position to make any commitments on behalf of the Bureau, as the Bureau had not been consulted about this matter and he did not know whether or not there would be any restrictions caused by "copyright" laws or other regulations which would make it impossible to go through with the above idea.

WHAT IS THERE TO EXPECT FROM A DOCTRINE THAT FILTERS VENOM AND HATRED?

The Communist philosophy is cast in molds of a cold and cruel materialism in which venom and hatred are fundamental ingredients which corrupt the minds and degrade the souls.

Starting with a most stupid negation of God, Whom it brutally attacks though denying Him, communism destroys, or better say persecutes, all the moral values that have always dignified the human being. It attacks till death the very same foundation of society, which is the family. It teaches the children to have no respect or love for their parents, forcing them to spy against those who gave them life. And to succeed in such monstrosity, the communist indoctrinators who deny God, who use the schools to serve the objectives of their devilish mission, teach the child lessons of immorality which could only germinate in that atmosphere of systematic confusion, of permanent "brainwashing" for which the communists are famous. violating the sovereignty of the mind with the most vulgar and criminal means of unopposed psychological compulsion. And anyone who chooses to pronounce against what is said by the agents of the most brutal tyranny recorded in the history of mankind, the communist, pays with his life and the safety and wellbeing of his family, such crime against what at certain moments the communists call "Fatherland".

Communism reduces the working masses to the most depressing bondage ever known in the process of world evolution, because aside from submitting them to an omnipotent boss as the totalitarian State is, without recourse of appeal against that boss, who is the law and sovereignty, it destroys them, the same as it does to all other members of society, in their spiritual essence, in their right to think, to believe in God, to cultivate love in its noblest manifestations.

What is there to expect of a liberticide doctrine in the political sense, unjust in the social sense, atheistic and which filters venom and hatred? Nothing else: slavery, immorality, poverty in a rich and powerful State, and depression and bitterness in the spirits.

Attached is a clipping from The Ohio Penitentiary News, a publication by inmates of the Ohio State Pen, relating to juvenile crime. It points out that juvenile crime appears to be at an all-time high and that prisoners agree that youngsters have no right being on the streets during the late evening hours, nor do they need automobiles..... youngsters should be at home where they belong.

The same publication also indicates that one of the latest books added to the prison library is The FBI Story by Don Whitehead.

In view of the interest of the prisoners in the FBI, I am sending the Warden a copy of Masters of Deceit to be added to the prison library.

Juvenile Crime Figures Reach Startling New All-Time High

During recent weeks the newspapers have stated quite plainly, and from the records, that crime is on the increase. Not only that, but the teenage problem has reached the point where it has become the concern of the nation. According to latest figures, juveniles are in the majority as far as crime is concerned. More crimes are committed by persons under twenty-one than ever before.

If all that has been read is true, juvenile delinquency is a thing of the past and could now properly be called a reign of terror or crime.

What does the man in prison think of the actions of the young people of today? An unofficial poll was undertaken and shows that most men in prison agree on a few things and agree by asking questions and then giving the answers.

What business does a kid of fifteen have on the streets after ten o'clock at night? Is it so important that a boy who is just a few short years from wearing rompers have a car?

These were two of the questions and the answers were fast in coming. "If you want to see the crime rate among the juveniles drop, have them in the house by ten in the evening. They'll never get in trouble doing their homework or being in bed where they belong."

"Do the kids need a car? Sure they do, just like they need the latest model jet plane. How many kids have appeared in court during the last year for stealing gas? How many have gone to the reformatory for stealing a tire or using a car to get away from a burglary? The tragic thing about the car in the hands of the youngsters is the number of them that have ended up in the hospital or the morgue by traveling eighty miles an hour in what could be called a deadly weapon.

Some men gave more forceful opinions. Fritz Horr is serving a life sentence and he had something to say about the situation. "Parents are not strict enough. The kids of today seem to be able to do as they please. I don't think they start stealing because they need the money, they have just about everything they want. It seems awfully plain to me, they start stealing for kicks, very seldom do they steal anything of great value. Unless they are stopped before it's too late, they'll graduate to bigger things."

Bob Curtiss is only twenty-six but is also serving a life sentence. He looks back at the teen years which were not too long ago. "Get the kids off the streets at night, but to get them off, make sure they have a happy, well-disciplined home life. No one can tell me this does not mean a lot, I know different. I started doing just as I pleased when I was fifteen years old."

What about the man who keeps coming back to prison? Russell McLain is now serving his third felony conviction and he has his ideas also. "Kids are getting completely out of hand and it looks like the old-fashioned spanking has gone by the wayside. In fact, not too long ago I read where neighbors had a man arrested for whacking his 15-year old son with a razor strap. The kid had broken into a car and the father was giving him a sample of what he had probably caught from his own father. Sometimes I wonder what my life would have been like had discipline been given me at the time of my early teens, by the time I was twenty you couldn't tell me nothing, I knew it all."

It's not very much, what the man in prison has to say about the juvenile delinquency problem. There does not seem to be much of an answer here but ask yourself the same two questions the men asked themselves and then gave their answer. "What would the kids be doing without the car and the late hours?"

It's really very simple—they would be home where they belong.

ASAC Dean Elson of Philadelphia, while calling in on another matter, advised that SA Norris S. Harzenstein had been talking with Morris Litman, City Editor of the "Philadelphia Enquirer," regarding a forthcoming feature story on the FBI to be carried in the "Enquirer" Sunday magazine. SA Harzenstein presented Mr. Litman with an autographed copy of "Masters of Deceit" and during the course of the conversation, Litman ^{ADVISED} it was most important that arrangements be made for the city schools in Philadelphia to receive copies of Mr. Hoover's book.

Litman then took it upon himself to contact a Mr. William Goldman, movie chain operator in Philadelphia who is also a member of the Philadelphia Board of Education. Goldman fully agreed with the importance of widespread distribution of the Director's book and made available $500 for the purchase of approximately 170 copies. Philadelphia is submitting this order promptly and upon receipt of the books, Mr. Goldman will arrange for distribution of copies to the city school libraries.

Philadelphia is promptly submitting additional information regarding this purchase so that an appropriate letter may be directed to Mr. Goldman expressing appreciation for his deep interest in "Masters of Deceit."

The above is for information.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : DIRECTOR, FBI

DATE: 11/23/60

FROM : SAC, PHILADELPHIA

SUBJECT: WILLIAM GOLDMAN Pa.

Remylet 10/16/60 entitled, "MORRIS LITMAN, CITY EDITOR,
 'THE PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER'". Phila., Pa.

Relet requested an autographed copy of "Masters of Deceit" to be presented to Mr. LITMAN. The book was purchased and presented by SA NORRIS S. HARZENSTEIN.

As he previously said he would do, Mr. LITMAN spoke with WILLIAM GOLDMAN who owns and operates the Goldman Theater, a large center city picture house and two large legitimate theaters, the Locust and the Erlanger. GOLDMAN is a member of the Board of Education and is locally prominent in youth activities. On the evening of November 21, LITMAN advised SA HARZENSTEIN that he had discussed this matter that day with GOLDMAN and that the latter had suggested that he would contribute $500 for the purchase of "Masters of Deceit" to be donated to the Board of Education for use in school libraries. In accordance with arrangements made by LITMAN with GOLDMAN, SA HARZENSTEIN followed up with GOLDMAN by telephone on Nov. 22 and called upon him the same day, receiving his check for $500.00. GOLDMAN discussed the work of the FBI and his personal views at some length, and expressed the hope that the books he was contributing would be useful educational material to alert young people to the Communist and Soviet dangers.

Thereafter, GOLDMAN telephoned to Superintendent of Schools, ALLEN H. WETTER, to advise him of what he had done. At GOLDMAN's suggestion, SA HARZENSTEIN spoke by telephone with Mr. WETTER, who expressed himself as being delighted and most grateful to receive these books. He asked that they be shipped directly to him at the Board of Education Building, 21st St. and Parkway, Philadelphia, after which he will arrange to "use them first" in the secondary schools.

DIRECTOR, FBI
Ph File 80-0

As a pertinent sidelight, Mr. WETTER expressed great appreciation for the extensive and valuable assistance the Bureau had rendered to the Board of Education over the past year by way of furnishing exhibits, literature, motion pictures, etc., and for the help that was being given by the Bureau in a proposed TV series on law enforcement agencies being prepared in conjunction with the Board of Education. (Additional details appear in correspondence from this office entitled, "FEDERAL BAR ASSOCIATION (FBA) PROPOSED RADIO AND TV PROGRAMS OF LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES - TV SHOWS, PHILADELPHIA SCHOOL SYSTEM", dated 11/1/60.)

There is enclosed herewith a check from WILLIAM GOLDMAN in the amount of $500.00. Since 170 copies of the book at $2.95 will amount to $501.50, there is also enclosed a personal check of SA HARZENSTEIN in the amount of $4.45. This is intended to cover the extra $1.50 plus $2.95 for an autographed copy of the book to be presented personally to Mr. GOLDMAN.

REQUEST OF BUREAU

It is requested that the Bureau furnish this office with a suitably phrased autographed copy of "Masters of Deceit" to be presented to Mr. WILLIAM GOLDMAN. Mr. GOLDMAN is prominent in Philadelphia business and civic circles. Indices of the Philadelphia Office contain no pertinent information regarding him.

It is also requested that a letter be directed to Mr. GOLDMAN. It is suggested that it might be appropriate for this letter to take cognizance of his concrete support for an educational program in which this Bureau has so vital an interest; namely, the need to alert the American public, and particularly, our young people to the dangers to this country and to individual freedoms inherent in the Communist system. The letter should be addressed to Mr. WILLIAM GOLDMAN, President, Goldman Theaters, Inc., 15th and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia.

[] advised he is employed as a mechanical engineer, Propellants Division, Wyle Laboratories, 128 Maryland, El Segundo, Calif., and assumed that perhaps the FBI had investigated him relative to his employment. He advised he understood the position of the FBI and deeply appreciated the Agents calling upon him. He reiterated his high regard for the Director.

[] advised he has been very out-spoken against communism. He stated he was quite concerned about the fact that "Masters of Deceit" has been occupying the lower shelves in local book stands and libraries and the manner in which Congressman-elect JAMES C. CORMAN had virtually repudiated the statements in that book during his campaign in a public debate sponsored by Town Hall at Sherman Oaks, Calif., exact date unrecalled. He advised the John Birch Society and the American Legion have been going around and placing copies of "Masters of Deceit" on the shelves in places of easy accessibility and where they will receive maximum attention. He advised Congressman-elect CORMAN had indicated there is no communist threat from within the U. S. but that the threat is from the Armies of Russia and Red China. He advised CORMAN had stated something like, thank God for EARL WARREN and the Supreme Court.

[] indicated a familiarity with the John Birch Society and advised that friends of his in that society had told him they had heard CORMAN remark to the effect that the Director didn't know what he was talking about concerning the internal threat of communism in the United States. At this point Agents immediately refuted CORMAN's above scurrilous remarks regarding the Director and informed [] that the Director's statements are entirely factual, that CORMAN was entirely wrong and that CORMAN obviously was the one who did not know what he was talking about to which [] stated he was thoroughly in agreement.

The interview was terminated under very pleasant conditions and Mr. CORMAN concluded that he had always had the highest regards for the Director and the FBI.

ATTENTION: CRIME RECORDS SECTION

DATE: 12/6/60

FROM : SAC, Charlotte (1-361)

SUBJECT: MASTERS OF DECEIT

There is attached a check of Chief of Police WILLIAM S. RHODES, (NA), Rock Hill, S.C., dated 11/29/60, on the Peoples' National Bank of Rock Hill, payable to the FBI Recreation Association for $2.95. Chief RHODES requests that one copy of the Director's book, MASTERS OF DECEIT, be autographed by the Director to [] and that the book be forwarded directly to Chief RHODES at the Rock Hill P. D. He requested that the book be autographed as of the current date rather than as of Christmas, 1960.

[] is the manager of the Rock Hill Printing and Finishing Co., in Rock Hill, and Charlotte indices have no unfavorable information concerning him.

Chief RHODES stated that he has enjoyed reading his copy of this book which was ordered by Charlotte letter of 11/1/60 and feels that it should be made available to high school and junior high school libraries. He has received a tentative offer from a local civic club to pay for several copies of the book for distribution to the local schools and libraries. Chief RHODES stated he would like to order these in his own name in order to take advantage of the price of $2.95 he is offered as a NA graduate, but wants it understood that he is not actually paying for them himself and would like to know if this would be all right. In the event it would not be proper to furnish the copies at $2.95 each, under this arrangement, he would like to know what the price would be for probably five or more copies.

It is requested the Bureau furnish advice on this matter of ordering several copies for distribution for him and it is suggested the Bureau may desire to reply directly to Chief RHODES in which event Charlotte would like to receive a copy of the Bureau's letter.

The Director is in receipt of a letter dated 12-2-60 from Congressman W. M. Abbitt, (D., Virginia), enclosing a letter dated 11-29-60 addressed to Mr. Hoover from F. Clyde Tuttle of Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Abbitt merely says that Tuttle, a former resident in his district, requested that he (Abbitt) furnish Tuttle's letter to the Director.

Tuttle in his letter, requests that the Director consider a promotion plan for "Masters of Deceit" in newspapers. This plan, outlined in an accompanying memorandum, proposes that sections of the book be syndicated for a three-month period accompanied by illustrative charts, mats, maps, etc. The cost would be paid by local publisher, who in turn would sell space to local sponsors. Tuttle would prepare an accompanying manual for the publisher in each area on how the program would work. A number of testimonials as to Tuttle's reliability are attached.

The entire plan obviously appears as a promotion plan by Tuttle to make some money. Bufiles fail to reflect any information identifiable with Tuttle.

From enclosed material he appears to have formerly been the editor and publisher of "The Tidewater News," a small newspaper in Franklin, Virginia (hence, his acquaintance with Abbitt). Our contacts with Abbitt have been limited but cordial.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1) That attached letter be sent to Congressman Abbitt, acknowledging his letter and enclosing copy of our reply to Tuttle.

Mr. Alfred V. Boerner, Chief of the U.S. Information Agency in Rome, stated on 12/2/60 that to complete all of the arrangements through USIA in Washington and to make arrangements for translation and publication of "Masters of Deceit" into Italian, if handled under the USIA Book Translation Program, would require more than a year. Mr. Boerner stated that the publishers in Milan, Editore Sugar, have advised that they will undertake to translate and publish the book immediately if they are guaranteed sale of 500 copies before publication. Mr. Boerner stated that he would, through USIA appropriations, be agreeable to purchasing 250 copies of the book if this office would agree to purchase the other 250 copies.

Mr. Boerner was informed that this office was authorized to purchase 100 copies. He was requested to contact Editore Sugar in Milan to ascertain if that company would undertake translation and publication of the book on the basis of a commitment of 350 copies. Mr. Boerner stated he would do so and would advise in this regard.

For the past two weeks, has introduced his parishioners, in glowing terms, to the statements made by the Director and the work of the FBI. He has urged his listeners to read more about Communism. He has distributed to his parishioners, by making available in the pews of the church, paper back editions of the Director's book, "Masters of Deceit." Honorable J. Edgar Hoover
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

For years, I have been deeply concerned with the menace of communism to the progress and freedom of mankind, and particularly to the United States of America. In my own publications, I have tried to carry on a continuous educational campaign to arouse my readers to the enemy within and without. I have never been satisfied that we are doing anything like enough to counteract the insidious un-Godly religion of this fanatical doctrine.

The enclosed brief outlines what I seriously consider a substantial and constructive step to attract attention, arouse interest, carry conviction and stimulate action on the part of tens of thousands of intelligent citizens of this Nation. It is a step that can easily spread throughout the nation and reach into every home. It is a concerted, community-wide campaign of aggressive action!

It is not the total answer, but I am firmly convinced -- based on a lifetime of study and experience -- that it is a vital, necessary and practical step now.

Will you give it careful and prayerful consideration since the whole idea depends upon your approval and cooperation? No man in America could be more effective. Your ability, knowledge, sincerity and devotion is unquestioned and above the petty politics, selfishness and personal aggrandizement of the times.

May I presume to urge your favorable action, with the assurance that I shall do everything within my resources to make this undertaking the greatest possible success in arousing our fellow citizens to the grave danger in which we find ourselves?

ENCLOSURE 62-104277-1763

Yours in service,

F. Clyde Tuttle

WILLIAM L. BRINKLEY, former sales manager for Lipton's Tea; Chamber of Commerce, Merchants Association, Shrine, and Kiwanis executive; civic and business leader:

You want detailed information. I have known Clyde Tuttle intimately since 1925, when my company became one of his clients, and I have worked closely with him on many undertakings. I recommend him to you without the slightest hesitation or reservation, and I will tell you why.

As an editor, publisher, and owner of newspapers, trade papers, and magazines, and as an advertising agency executive and owner, he has been closely associated—as an executive or advisor—with many lines of endeavor and many business enterprises from small retail shops to manufacturing industries and financial institutions; and from local civic promotions to national projects. He has conceived ideas, developed plans, and executed complete programs both civic and commercial. He has analyzed markets and the potentialities of products; aided in the promotion and development of companies and organizations; employed, trained, and directed personnel.

As an agency man he created and developed such accounts as the "B C" remedy. In the publishing field he established and published the official publication for fourteen state leagues of municipalities, as well as published newspapers and magazines in several states. As a promotion man he originated and promoted the Appalachian Scenic Highway from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico; a famous state advertising program; he conceived, planned, financed, and directed the foremost municipal government survey costing $565,000.00, and other local, state, and national projects.

His work has given him a rather sound understanding of human nature and the reaction of the mind. He is able to sell ideas and plans to others and instill the enthusiasm to carry through to success, as evidenced by the fact that he has induced level-headed business men to turn hundreds of thousands of their hard earned dollars over to him to spend as he saw fit.

He has conceived, planned, and carried through undertakings that required impressive organizational cooperation, including governors and other state officials, college presidents and other educational officials, mayors and municipal officials by the hundreds, business executives, trade associations, civic groups, women's clubs, and individuals. He has been very successful in developing hard working, efficient, and loyal employees.

He is fortunate in being able not only to originate constructive and effective ideas, but to evolve practical plans for carrying such ideas to successful fruition, and further still to direct the execution of those plans to assume maximum results. By sound ability, keen imagination, practical analysis, and wide experience he has, and can, produce successful results on any project he undertakes. He has proven that conclusively over nearly a quarter century.

A GRASSROOTS PROJECT

FOR FREEDOM - -

Our Enemy:

"Communism is the major menace of our time!

"Today, it threatens the very existence of our Western Civilization!

Communism is more than an economic, political, social or philosophical doctrine. It is a way of life; a false, materialistic religion! It would strip man of his belief in God, his heritage of freedom, his trust in love, justice and mercy. Under communism, all would become, as many already have, twentieth century slaves!

"Today, it is a dedicated, conspiratorial group operating under modern conditions as an arm of revolution. There is no doubt that America is now the prime target of international communism!

"Every citizen has a duty to learn more about the menace that threatens his future, his home, his children and the peace of the world!

"If you will take the time to inform yourself, you will find that communism holds no mysteries. Its leaders have blueprinted their objectives -- (Just as Hitler did!). The time is far too late not to recognize this "ism" for what it is -- a threat to humanity and to each of us!" (Extracts from "Masters of Deceit" by J. Edgar Hoover.)₁

Our Problem:

"Masters of Deceit" is the most effective piece of ammunition so far produced by America for the battle of men's minds. Were it possible to force every citizen to read, study and understand the message this book brings, much of the danger we face in communism would be removed. In America we cannot force our people to do things as they do in the communist world, so we must attempt to achieve our purposes by indirection.

The vast majority of our citizens will not attack a large, serious book on what they consider mostly a subject out of their domain -- something for their government to solve! Yet the necessity to inform and awaken the vast masses of our people to the danger that confronts not only their government but each of them, is of paramount importance to the salvation of Western Civilization and all its people.

Our Plan:

To do that we must present in concise, easily digested doses the story this great book presents in a manner in keeping with the rush and selfcenteredness of our times. The story told by "Masters of Deceit" must be broken up into short compact, dramatic and dynamic subdivisions, effectively illustrated and presented in large size, striking layouts to attract attention and arouse interest as the reader glances through his favorite hometown newspaper. When his interest is aroused the brief 600 to 800 words must carry conviction and stimulate action by presenting a complete, easily understood unit of the whole story, yet obviously just a unit of the complete story of the enemy we face.

The Medium:

The hometown newspaper, weekly or daily, is the most widely and thoughtfully read, because it presents the news closest to the mind and heart of the reader -- news about him, his family, his neighbors, his community and his local problems. These 12,000 odd publications reach practically every home in America and present the message under well-known local sponsorship, at a time when the reader is in a receptive mood. The page or half-page display space with powerful illustration, eye catching arrangement and easily read wording would arrest the attention and assure reader interest. To assure that the reader's continued interest will be made effective, each message will be numbered as one of a series, and each will carry the admonition to watch for the next unit the following week. In each unit the reader will be urged to secure a copy of the book, "Masters of Deceit", by J. Edgar Hoover, for regular home reading, study and reference.

Additional weight will be added by the sponsor which will be local banks, manufacturers or other large local organizations, well and favorably known in the community.

Active Community Participation:

Through the active cooperation of the local publisher, the active cooperation of local government officials, schools, churches, civic and fraternal organizations and all local groups and speakers will be urged to emphasize the importance of these messages, and to urge every person to read and study every one of them. Thus it will become an aggressive localized grassroot project to interest and arouse every citizen to the danger which confronts us -- and how it must be met.

Financing:

This project, unlike most such endeavors, will be completely selfsupporting. The publication will purchase the complete proofs and mats of each unit -- ordering thirteen units, a three months series, at one time. He will get not only the mats and proofs of the units but a complete program for his community, and how to organize and promote it. The cost of illustrations, composition, program, etc., will be so prorated that each publisher will pay his part of the cost of the entire project.

Each publisher in turn will charge his sponsors a sum that will pay for his costs of the local community program, plus a small profit. The sponsors in turn can deduct the cost of the local community program from their income taxes as contributions.

This idea of making such a worthy program selfsupporting in each community is not new or experimental. It is being done and has been done for many years, and it is an established success from every standpoint. Its merit is vouched for, also, by the fact that it is the method used by The Advertising Council for all their national promotions. Its success is assured.

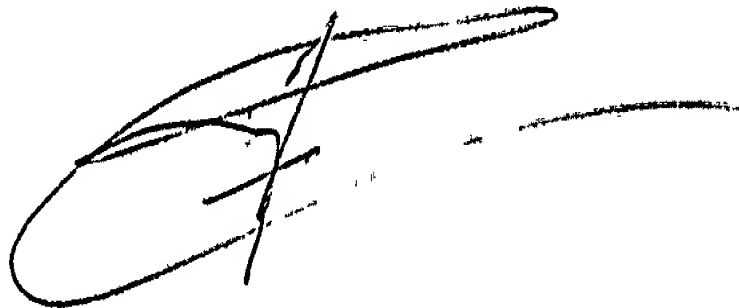

The operation of the project would be rather simple. You would grant us the exclusive rights to use the contents of your book, "Masters of Deceit", for this purpose. The book is so written that it naturally breaks up into approximate units or subdivisions. Some editing, additions, condensations, adjusting and rearranging, may seem advisable, but basically we want the story as you have told it. Preferably, we would like for you to prepare these subdivisions of the book, but if for any reason you cannot do this, we would secure the assistance of competent writers to do the job most effectively, and then submit the complete unit to you.

We would secure the service of the best available artists to properly illustrate each unit in the most forceful manner possible. We would prepare a manual for the publisher in each community with a complete outline of the program for his area, together with all necessary information and material. We would handle the sale to the publisher, and all matters pertaining to the campaign. We would secure the cuts, mats, proofs, promotion and execution of the project in detail. You would have no responsibility or annoyance in anyway with the operation of the project.

We would pay you a royalty for the use of your material at so much per unit for each publication using it. But over and above that we firmly believe that this offers an exceptional opportunity to aid in informing and arousing the average citizen to the enemy we face, by intense, aggressive community cooperation, study and effort, spread throughout the nation!

Veteran subscribers will have no difficulty in remembering the readiness with which The Graphic projected itself into politics in an era when factional differences made enemies of friends. Such a state of affairs existed in Franklin for several years. One result of the schism was the proposal to establish a weekly newspaper as a rival to The Graphic, the editor of which was J. Peter Holland. In the issue for October 6, 1905, occurred this illuminating paragraph:

Finally, The Tidewater News

First editor of The Tidewater News was Paul Scarborough, who came to Franklin from Murfreesboro, N. C., where he edited briefly the Hertford Herald. The youthful editor — he was then only 23 years old — was a graduate of Wake Forest College and had done one year of postgraduate work at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md. He was described by Dr. Bryant, a stockholder in the company, as a "brilliant young man." He and the late Dr. E. A. de Bordenave alternated as postmaster of Franklin, depending on whether the Democrats or Republicans were in control of the national government. During his second term as postmaster he was succeeded as editor of The Tidewater News by his son, Charles W. Scarborough.

From the Pythian Building the Democrat moved to a small, single-story frame structure on Second Avenue, near Franklin Street. Not until towards the end of his career as printer and publisher did Mr. Stroud, who set all of his type himself, operate his press other than by muscle power, frequently supplied by his son, Lee. But eventually he acquired from the rival Tidewater News a bigger press and a kerosene engine, which lightened his burden considerably. Mr. Stroud lived nearly six years after publishing his anniversary edition, dying at his home on S. High Street on Tuesday, August 19, 1930.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
RICHMOND

Dear Mr. Tuttle:

I extend hearty congratulations to The Tidewater News on the celebration of its Golden Anniversary, commemorating an outstanding period in the history of Southampton County.

The press of Virginia performs an important and indispensable public service and it is gratifying to recall the proud history of The Tidewater News over the past half century. This newspaper serves a great county and it is evident that both the citizens of Southampton and The Tidewater News have joined hands in the interest of continued progress.

Sincerely yours,

THOS. B. STANLEY

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
SENATE CHAMBER

Gentlemen:

Congratulations upon your fiftieth birthday! You have, during your existence, made a most substantial and worthwhile contribution to the solid growth of the Town of Franklin and the County of Southampton and the other area you serve. To my mind no section of Virginia rests upon a more solid foundation and its sound growth over the years augurs well not only for its future, but for that of our State and Country. Southampton County, carved from my County of Isle of Wight over three hundred years ago, has an history of which it is justly proud and the inspiration gained therefrom no doubt is in no small part responsible for its growth and splendid accomplishments.

Here in America the publication of a newspaper carries with it an obligation and a responsibility almost without parallel in history. Over the past thirty odd years it has been my pleasure to observe you in action and it is my considered opinion that you have been ever conscious of your role in our way of life and have fulfilled your every obligation in a most commendable manner.

With every good wish for your continued success,
I am

Sincerely yours,

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Dear Mr. Tuttle:

I wish to take this means of congratulating you people in Southampton County upon the observance of your 300th Anniversary and to commend your paper for its calling attention to this by the publication of your Golden Anniversary Historical Edition.

Southampton County has, during its 300 years of existence, contributed immeasurably to the great history of the Commonwealth of Virginia. Its people have always been among our choicest citizens and their contribution has been one of continuous uplifting of our society. Through the years the history of Southampton County has been one of progress and achievement and the results of their activities are seen in the present place that the county holds among the communities of our nation.

The people of your county are today exemplifying a continuation of the fine heritage which has been theirs and their attempts to better themselves year after year by the promotion of agriculture and industry speak well for the motives which they show forth.

I want to especially commend The Tidewater News for the progressive leadership which it has given to the promotion of Southampton County. It is always encouraging to find newspapers which are contributing to the development of the community, but I feel that the work being done by your paper and the services rendered are of exceptional character. I have been impressed particularly in recent months by your continuing efforts to promote the growth of agriculture in Southampton and your efforts have been noted with considerable interest by high authorities in both the Legislative and Executive branches of the government. I believe that through the continuation of these efforts much can be done towards inspiring your people to further progress.

I wish to extend my hearty congratulations upon the occasion of your Golden Anniversary and to wish you well in the coming years. Your past contributions have been such as to lend emphasis to your place in the community and upon the basis of these activities I have every reason to believe that The Tidewater News will continue to prosper along with the community which it so ably represents.

It is a pleasure to serve you people in the Congress, and whenever I can be of assistance in any way I want you to feel free to call upon me.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

My dear Mr. Tuttle:

Please allow me to join The Tidewater News host of friends in congratulating your publication on the occasion of its Fiftieth Anniversary.

At the same time I should like to congratulate the people of Southampton County who are served by the News.

Yours is an excellent publication serving a fine community where our great Nation had its early beginnings.

You have my best wishes for continuing throughout years to come the great public service you have rendered in the past.

Please convey my greetings also to the people of Southampton County and throughout the great Tidewater area.

Faithfully yours,

HARRY F. BYRD

UNITED STATES SENATE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Dear Mr. Tuttle:

Please accept my congratulations on the decision of The Tidewater News to celebrate its fifty years of service to the people of your area by publication of an Anniversary Edition dedicated to the history of Southampton County. Yours is a large and historic county with a record in war and in peace of which its citizens well may be proud.

Southampton was among the first Virginia counties to take a stand in the cause of American independence sending aid to the suffering patriots of Boston even before the outbreak of hostilities and later supplying volunteer militiamen to protect the Capital at Williamsburg. The county's fertile soil has made it a leading producer of peanuts and one of the largest cotton growing counties in Virginia and growth of industries to balance the agriculture of the county has furnished steady employment for its residents and has stimulated growth of its population.

These things I know about your background and characteristics as a county but I shall look forward with keen interest to the promised full exposition of Southampton's religious, educational and cultural activities and its progress in the fields of agriculture, commerce and industry in your historical edition.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

We know that citizens throughout Southampton County appreciate your project to produce a complete history of the county, combined with your newspaper's Golden Anniversary Edition.

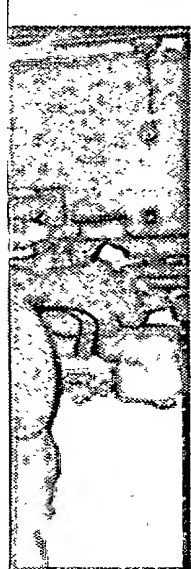

All of us realize it is a vast undertaking and that only through the cooperation of citizens in every area can the edition be truly representative. We are looking forward to this paper with pleasant anticipation and I want you to know that all of us at Drewryville and in this section of the county are anxious to lend every possible assistance.

With best wishes for the complete success of your project, I am.

Monitor-Tribune-Gazette-Democrat

In his "Anniversary and Progress Edition," published on September 25, 1924, William Henry Stroud, editor of the Southampton Democrat, reviewed Franklin's growth and evolution during the nearly 39 years since his arrival in the community.

On January 18, 1886, when he took charge of the Gazette, the town boasted a population of only 427 persons. Within a few months after his arrival in Franklin he bought the Gazette and changed its name to the Southampton Democrat, which he edited and published until failing health impelled him to discontinue its publication in was an old hand at the game, having worked on newspapers in both his native Portsmouth and Norfolk before coming to Franklin.

For several years the Democrat occupied the ground floor of the Knights of Pythias Building on Main Street, the present location of the Virginian Drug Store. His shop proved a favorite haunt for persons anxious to read the Scientific American and other publications coming to the office of the Democrat. On press days Mr. Stroud would hire boys in the neighborhood to fold and wrap papers.

(A vivid recollection of the writer is the experience of three youngsters who, after wrapping papers on a bright summer afternoon, received a token sum for their labors. As the youngest of the trio it naturally fell to his lot to invest the nickle in a bottle of ice-cold strawberry pop for all to enjoy. With mouth-watering expectancy the proud owners of the bottle of pop hastened to the nearby home of the eldest, where they passed it from one to another and viewed its sparkling contents, which the rays from a westering sun made irresistible to taste buds parched as the desert of Gobi. Conceivably, if you can, the consternation of the trio when, after a prolonged and vigorous agitation, the cork was blown out of the bottle and the contents escaped in a geyser-like stream even as high as the ceiling, which suddenly blossomed out with a widening, pink stain, like the mushroom cloud from an atomic explosion. Never were truer words uttered than those spoken by the youth who still clung to the bottle and who

for advertising in newspapers

1. Newspaper reading is a universal habit; newspaper advertising therefore reaches virtually all who buy.
2. Newspaper advertising is the life-blood of local trade because it touches all consumer sources in every opportunity for complete consumer appeal in any locality.
3. Newspaper advertising cuts selling costs because it entails no waste in locality of circulation. Manufacturers use it to cover markets where it is profitable to do business.
4. Newspaper advertising assures quick, thorough and commercial dealer distribution and dealer good will, because retailers are willing to sell products advertised direct to their own customers.
5. Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to tell where their products may be bought.
6. Newspaper advertising can be started or stopped overnight, can be prepared between days to meet sudden developments and to obtain immediate results.
7. Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to check advertising results and costs in every market which they enter.
8. Newspaper advertising costs less than any other kind.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

OBJECTIVES . . .

We could say that the objective of The Tidewater News is to make this area and its various communities a better place in which to live in and work and play. That would be a correct summation.

But to break it down in steps and to be more specific we list some of the more important steps.

Our efforts shall continue to be dedicated to:

The development of a keener sense of citizenship and its responsibility and appreciation—awakening a crusading civic spirit for the improvement and development of the various communities in our area—being sure that nothing remains in any community for which its citizens must apologize, and be ashamed.

The addition of at least seven million dollars to the annual income of the people of Southampton County to bring the average per capita income up to at least the average for the Commonwealth of Virginia—a project that will put additional profit in the cash registers of every store, profession, service trade and wholesaler.

The improvement of farm methods, planning, production, and land utilization so that every farm will produce the maximum income possible for its owner and tenants.

The improvement and expansion of the retail and service trades to the point where, in appearance, in service and in quality and assortment of merchandise, there will be no need for any citizen to shop outside the Home area—to develop a keener realization upon the part of the customers that their Home area cannot be improved or made more attractive by spending their money in other areas.

To develop or attract new small industries scattered throughout the area which will provide jobs and income for the unemployed labor in the various communities, or part-time jobs for the partially employed, and an improved standard of living for all.

To improve and make more attractive every home, farm, business, school, church, road, street and neighborhood in this area, so that it will be a delight to the citizen and a pleasant memory to the transient.

In short, to awaken and develop a dynamic civic spirit in every heart—pride in ownership, pride in citizenship, pride in the heritage left to the coming generations.

We want to see Southampton County designated as a Pilot County for the experiment of the United States Department of Agriculture, because that is the surest way of attaining all our objectives.

We want to see the average income of the people of this area at least equal to the average income in the state of Virginia. The best prospect of doing that is to have the United States Department of Agriculture designate Southampton County as a Pilot County in their plan to study and improve low income areas. If that is done Southampton County will become a demonstration area to show other areas how it is possible to raise the income in their areas—and nothing will be allowed to stand in the way of success for the project.

This will be an expansion of, and the efficient carrying out of, the program advocated by The Tidewater News and sponsored and activated by the Ruritan clubs of the county. The objectives are exactly the same—to raise the income of the people of the county.

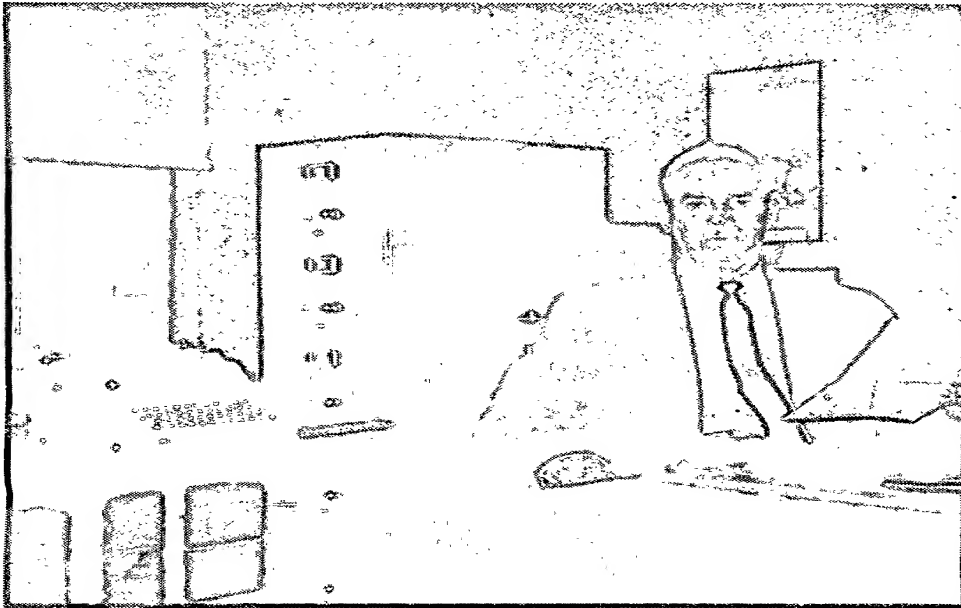

It will mean the establishment of small industries in each of the various communities who want and need them, to provide full time work for the unemployed and part-time jobs for the partially employed.

It will mean the replanning, and improvement of the program for each farm so that the farmer can get the maximum return from his land and labor, and thereby increase his income.

It will mean the awakening and stimulating of constructive civic spirit in each of the various communities where unselfish community development is to dormant, so that the people will take a greater pride in their community and its progress, prosperity, and appearance.

Pride of ownership and citizenship are essential to success.

les in the Golden Anniversary historical edition, turn

Dear Reader:

It has been very difficult to decide what to say in this space marking the centuries old development and progress of Southampton and the Fiftieth Anniversary of service to the people of that area by The Tidewater News—your Home newspaper. I have been active here in that service for but a moment of that period, yet I am very proud to be a small part of the past, present and future of this wonderful area.

Perhaps I should just say, "Congratulations on your glorious history and wonderful progress through the past generations and the prosperous and delightful area which you have produced, may you in the future secure the greatest benefit for the greatest number from the abundant opportunities God has placed in your hands."

But, knowing me, you will know that I can't stop there. The policy of The Tidewater News for the past, present and the future has been set out on this page in articles appearing in previous issues of your Home newspaper during the past fifty years.

I must grasp this opportunity to urge you to really follow the example of your illustrious ancestors who were not satisfied with things as they were, but who created opportunities to make the most of the great gifts God had placed in their keeping. Southampton is a great county, and nowhere have I ever found finer people. But too many of you are sitting on your hands—and on other people's hands, too.

I don't want to see Franklin or our other towns become big cities. If that happened I would move away. But I do want to see it develop and prosper, so that it will be an ever more beautiful place in which to live and work. I believe that the present generation has the duty and the responsibility, and the challenge and opportunity, to improve and develop our towns and their areas to the maximum of their ability as provided by a generous Providence, so that its children and grandchildren will not have to seek opportunities, livelihood or homes in other sections. God did not intend us to be robbers of His generosity, taking all and replacing nothing. He expects us to leave our communities modern, up-to-date, progressive places where future generations can also make a pleasant living and enjoy their lives in comfort, plenty, and pride of home. He provides us the ability, the materials, and the opportunities to do this, and if we fail we shall be slothful servants, condemned by our descendants.

Remember the parable of the landlord and the three servants? We can not be leeches on the community sucking its life blood, and hold our self-respect in the face of the judgment of our children and of our God. We must do our best with the talents our Landlord entrusted to us, without excuse or equivocation, or we shall face condemnation.

New generations are on the way. What shall be their verdict on our stewardship? Shall they be ashamed of the community and area we leave them, or shall they say with pride, "I am from Southampton County, Virginia!"

Let this record of the past be your inspiration for the future. Mistakes and achievements of the past are but guide posts for the coming years and generations.

"No man is an island."

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : SAC, Cincinnati

DATE: 12/5/60

FROM : SA SUBJECT: FILM "OPERATION ABOLITION"
SHOWN ON WHIO TV, 12/2/60

On 12/5/60 TOM FRAWLEY, WHIO TV, Dayton, advised that he ran the captioned film on his half-hour program on 12/2/60. FRAWLEY advised that he ran about twenty minutes of the film and the remaining ten minutes were taken up in discussion of the Communist menace and the method the Communists use in infiltrating legitimate groups to obtain their objectives.

FRAWLEY advised that Brother ALBERT ROSE, Head, Political Science Department, University of Dayton, was on the program and spent about one minute talking about J. EDGAR HOOVER and his book, "Masters of Deceit". Brother ROSE recommended that everyone should buy a copy of this book and read it.

FRAWLEY stated that he has received an excellent reaction from the program and he was very appreciative of the suggestion to obtain and run the film. He stated that the reaction of the public was very favorable but he had also received a call from the lawyer representing the American Civil Liberties Union requesting equal time to offer rebuttal to the film. He stated that this request had been turned over to the front office.

FRAWLEY advised that he had 25 minutes of the show taped and would furnish a copy of the tape if the FBI was interested in the comments made by Brother ROSE.
